May Save Gen. Tojo To Face Trial As War Criminal

Gen. Tojo Given Fair Chance To Make Recovery

American Army Sergeant Gives Direct Blood Transfusion To Nip War Lord

MORE ARE ARRESTED AS WAR CRIMINALS

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—A Reuter's Tokyo dispatch said today that the condition of Gen. Hideki Tojo had grown worse and doctors are now battling to save his life.

Tokyo, Sept. 12.—An American army sergeant gave Japan's "Pearl Harbor" Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo a direct blood transfusion today and the Nip war lord was given a fair chance of recovering from his self-inflicted chest wound.

Sgt. John Archinal (17 North Penn street), Altoona, Pa., donated the blood to the number one war criminal as General Douglas MacArthur's counter-intelligence arrested five other persons for questioning in connection with war crimes.

American Taken
Allied authorities disclosed that Mark L. Streeter, American construction worker who is accused of turning traitor after being captured, on Wake Island, is among those arrested.

Streeter was removed from the Army hospital ship Marigold by the Eleventh Army Corps provost marshal. The American was under treatment as a liberated war prisoner.

The others apprehended were Jorge B. Vargas, former ambassador of the puppet Philippine government to Japan; Vargas' two sons, Eduardo and Gregorio, and Heinrich Stahmer, German ambassador to Japan.

Streeter and Vargas and his sons were jailed at Yokohama and Stahmer (Continued on Page Two)

According to Pa Newc's season record, autumn will begin this year on September 23, at 4:59 a. m. Eastern Standard time.

Curb light standards on the Washington street lighting system are being given a coating of bright green paint, Pa Newc notes. The work was being done west of the public square this morning.

Robert McClanahan of Wood street reports to Pa Newc that he caught a white albino bat in his chicken yard trap last night. The bat is a good size and has pink eyes. The rat had not destroyed any of the chickens but it had been feeding itself of late on chicken feed in the yard.

Tuesday evening, in the 600 block of East Washington street, our attention was called to two proud mothers who were each taking out two boys in large size buggies for a stroll; one pair was four months and the other three months. The former mother had another pair, girls, along about three years of age. The group all seemed quite happy.

Gen. Yamashita Foresees Hanging As Fate In Store

By PAT ROBINSON
(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, Sept. 12.—Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, the "Tiger of Malaya," predicted gloomily today that he will be hanged as a war criminal.

Yamashita, who was playing a Japanese game with other Nip generals and admirals in a cell of New Bilibid prison, said "there comes Mr. Bad News," when he saw me.

I assured him that was what I brought—bad news for him. I showed him dispatches telling of former Premier Tojo's suicide attempt and General MacArthur's roster of Jap war criminals.

The Jap generals and admirals all crowded around Yamashita's interpreter, who translated the dispatches, but not the animated pow-wow that ensued.

Probably Right
Then Yamashita, looking at me, said:

"I suppose I'll be soon on that list, and they'll hang me."
Cheerfully, I assured him that such probably would be the case. He grinned wryly and fingered his fat throat.

I asked Yamashita again if he contemplated hara-kiri and he replied, scornfully: "No."

Asked what he thought of Tojo shooting himself, he shrugged and answered: "That is his affair."

I related some accounts of atroci-

Peace Treaty With Italy May Meet With Some Delay

Possibility Of Russian Dissent To Early Action At Conference Is Seen

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The possibility of Russian dissent to an early writing of a peace treaty with Italy threatened today to embroil the conference of foreign ministers in protracted negotiations.

Behind the scenes suggestions were that the Soviet viewpoint regarding early settlement of the Italian problem differs markedly from that of the United States and British delegates which hoped to conclude a peace with Italy as soon as possible.

May Slow Down Talks

Despite a blunt warning from official British sources that it is as yet too early to speculate on future crises within the conference, there were persistent reports that Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov may attempt deliberately to slow down the talks on Italy.

Informed circles believed, however, that Russia likely would find herself a minority of one in the five-power talks, with France and China probably supporting the American and British viewpoint. The matter of a peace treaty with Italy appeared to be the first order of business as the foreign ministers began their second day of deliberations.

The Russians are typically inscrutable at this stage, maintaining their usual tight-knit silence within the Soviet embassy.

The conference is expected to get down to its real work today, or at least by tomorrow, when any real divergence of opinion regarding procedure is likely to be disclosed in a hurry.

Appointment Of Pearl Harbor Probers Awaited

Ten Senate And House Members To Be Named To Probe Disaster

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—

Congress awaited with tense interest today the appointment of the ten Senate and House members who will constitute the joint committee to investigate the Pearl Harbor disaster.

The inquiry was authorized finally after bitter partisan House debate.

Sen. McKellar (D) Tenn., president pro tempore of the Senate, said he hoped to name the five Senate members today. But in the House, where an attempt to "channel" the selection was defeated, (Continued on Page Two)

Japs Surrender Southeast Asia

Formal Surrender Ceremony Takes Place At Singapore To British

SINGAPORE, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Japanese forces in southeast Asia were surrendered today to Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, allied supreme commander and cousin of King George VI.

The Jap deputy commander in the southeast Asia theater, Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, signed the formal surrender at 10:55 a. m. (11:15 p. m. Tuesday EDT).

Under the surrender instrument all Japanese forces in the southeast Asia theater are now under control of Lord Mountbatten. The Jap commander pledged to carry out all terms imposed by the surrender and any future orders issued either by Lord Mountbatten personally or by responsible allied officers under Lord Mountbatten's command.

The surrender ceremony took place in the municipal hall where Gen. Itagaki signed the documents.

Says Atomic Bomb Was Justified By Lives It Saved

Countless Thousands Of American Lives Saved By Using Atomic Bomb

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12.—(INS)—Col. Franklin T. Matthias of the Army engineers declared today that use of the Atomic bomb was fully justified and saved many American lives.

Col. Matthias is in charge of the project at Hanford, Wash., at which one stage of the manufacture takes place.

"So far as the ethics of atomic bombing go, I feel that the saving of the lives of our fighting men was worth any cost," he said. "The atomic bombs not only saved millions of our men, but probably saved the lives of millions of Japanese."

He said the Hanford plants represent an investment of 350 million dollars and hire of 5,000 workers. Scientists believe that there is virtually no danger of explosion at Hanford, Col. Matthias said.

On the other hand, elaborate precautions had to be taken to lessen the danger of radioactivity.

Biddle Named As U. S. Judge On War Court

Appointed By President To Serve In International Court To Try War Criminals

PRESIDENT GIVES OTHER SELECTIONS

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—President Truman today appointed Francis Biddle, former attorney general, to be the American judge on the international court which will try war criminals in Europe.

The chief executive also announced the resignation of Elmer Davis as chairman of the Office of War Information and named Neil Dalton of Louisville, Ky., to liquidate the agency.

The chief executive, at a news conference, made public a number of judgeship appointments, but said that he is still considering men for the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court caused by the resignation of Owen J. Roberts.

Names Former Senator

Mr. Truman appointed former Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri to be an associate justice on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia replacing Thurman Arnold, resigned.

Mr. Truman also appointed John J. Parker, appeals court judge for the fourth circuit, to be Biddle's alternate on the court.

President Truman appointed J. J. O'Connell of Pittsburgh to be judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the third circuit.

The President also announced two appointments to the Federal Power Commission. They were Harrington Wimberly of Altus, Okla., replacing William C. Sullivan, and Richard Sachs of California replacing John W. Scott.

Mr. Truman also named Gael F. Sullivan of Chicago to be second assistant postmaster general, replacing Smith Purdum.

Fourteen Killed As Naval Plane Crashes In South

(BULLETIN)
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 12.—(INS)—Fourteen naval officers and men were killed today when a four-engine PB4Y plane crashed two miles west of the Opaoka Naval Air Station.

One occupant, AOM 2-c W. J. Deroche, escaped death by parachuting from the plane.

Officers at the station said that the crash, with its number three engine ablaze, was circling the field at 500 feet. Then thought the pilot was preparing to land when suddenly the plane plunged to the ground and exploded.

Liberated Marine Ace Arrives In United States Today—Greeted By "Black Sheep"

AIRPORT, OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 12.—(INS)—Lt. Col. Gregory Boyington, the "hottest" Marine Corps pilot of the Pacific, landed today at Oakland airport at 5:50 a. m. PWT.

Looking tanned and fit despite 20 months in Jap prison camps, Boyington leaped from the C-54 transport which brought him from Hawaii and was greeted joyously by 20 members of his "Black Sheep" Fighter Squadron.

Wrote Blazing Chapter

The men who wrote a blazing chapter of aerial combat history in the Pacific with Boyington, threw their leader upon their shoulders and paraded around with him.

The marine ace's father, Dr. C. B. Boyington, of St. Marys, Ida., was not at the airport to greet his famous son but was believed enroute from San Francisco.

Boyington showed no indications of the illness which caused him to be detained in Hawaii for several days on his homeward flight.

Postwar Trade And Financial Problems Aired

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Anglo-American negotiators on postwar financial and trade problems today were reported planning to give right-of-way to arrangements for continuing shipments of necessities to Britain while their talks were being held.

The United States has receded from its position that lend-lease termination and settlements will receive first consideration. This problem will be considered jointly with the three others which have been included on the agenda, with British consent.

Lower Estimate Of Size Of Army Needed In Japan

Gen. MacArthur Says Japan Has Been Reduced To Status Of Fourth-Rate Power

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme Allied commander charged with eliminating the last vestiges of hostility in the Far East, declared today that Japan had been reduced to the status of a fourth-rate power.

In a statement to the combined Allied press, General MacArthur made it clear that by confining Japan to her four home islands in accordance with the Potsdam declaration Nippon could be prevented from becoming a leading world power again.

The supreme commander admitted, however, that Japan's rise to commercial leadership in the Orient in the future could not necessarily be prevented.

Emphasizing the complete defeat of the Japanese army, which he felt had been generally over-looked by the American public, General MacArthur said that in his opinion Japan would not be able to wage another war within the "predictable future."

Expressing satisfaction over recent events, the five-star general disclosed that the calm acceptance by the Japanese of the present American occupation troops had resulted in a decision to lower the estimates of the size of the army he will need to maintain in Japan. He called this "good news for American troops and their families."

New York Assigns 6,000 Policemen For Wainwright Welcome

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(INS)—More than 6,000 police duty were assigned today for special duty in connection with New York's reception tomorrow to Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, which is expected to match the welcome accorded Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower several months ago.

The hero of Bataan and Corregidor will receive a 17-gun salute on his arrival at LaGuardia field. Twenty thousand seats are being placed in front of City hall for the official welcoming reception.

Policy For Japs Not 'Kid Glove' Says President

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—President Truman declared today that the government being imposed upon Japan had been worked out by the Allied powers, and insisted that it was not a "kid glove" policy.

At a news conference Mr. Truman was asked to comment on a feeling evinced in Australia that the treatment for defeated Japan was a "kid glove" policy.

The President replied that the kind of government for Japan had been worked out, and that if Australia remained patient that nation would be satisfied with what is done in the Nipponese islands.

Policy Worked Out

At the same time, Mr. Truman declared that a policy for Korea likewise had been worked out and will be announced in the near future.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY CONSOLIDATES 17 RATIONING BOARDS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(INS)—William K. Harrison, District OPA Director, today announced that plans are being worked out to consolidate Allegheny county's 17 rationing boards into five by November 30.

In the other 16 counties comprising the Pittsburgh district, the 50 war price and rationing boards will be crunched into 15, Harrison added.

Outside of Allegheny county, board offices located in county seats will be retained in most cases.

Exceptions, according to present plans, are Forest and Clarion, where no board offices will operate, and Westmoreland, where offices will be retained at Greensburg and New Kensington because of the size of the county.

Gen. MacArthur Moves To Strip Japan Of Power

'Strong Arm' Phase Of Occupation Plan In Japan Is Getting Under Way

TO SPEED TRIALS OF WAR CRIMINALS (BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The notorious Black Dragon Society, heart of the Japanese war machine, was banned today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur as he put the "strong arm" phase of his occupation policy into effect.

Seven ringleaders of the Black Dragon Society, which gained and held power by associations and ruthless intrigue, were ordered arrested.

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—The "strong arm" phase of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation plan for Japan went into effect today in a series of moves designed to strip the Nipponese empire of all war-making power and bring war criminals to book.

The Supreme Allied command ordered the Japanese government to turn over Haneda airport to occupation forces this afternoon as United States troops prepared to move inland and set a chain of bases for purposes of controlling a demilitarized Japan.

Will Be U. S. Air Base

The Haneda airport which lies midway between Tokyo and Yokohama will be reconstructed and enlarged and within 60 to 90 days, will become the chief air transport command terminal in the Jap capital area.

MacArthur's counter-intelligence officers, working in coordination with occupation troops, were enlarged in the process of rounding up 39 top-ranking Jap officials and quislings who will be brought to trial as war criminals.

The order for the arrest of the 39 persons charged with international crimes came on the heels of the bungled suicide attempt of former Emperor Hirohito.

Woman Is Charged With Strangling Of Five-Year-Old Son

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Mary G. Aniol, 28, of Johnstown, today was being held without bail in Cambria county jail, charged with strangling to death her five-year-old son.

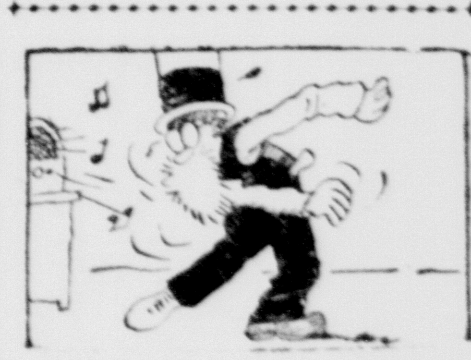

Detective Charles Griffiths filed the murder charge before Alderman Louis R. Saylor.

Police found the boy, John Anthony Aniol, strangled in bed in the family home yesterday. Sgt. John W. Reed quoted the young mother as explaining:

"When I came into his room and saw him lying on the bed, I don't know what came over me. Her husband told police Mrs. Aniol had been under physician's care for a while last year and was subject to periods of depression.

Mrs. Aniol and her son and daughter, Mary Ann, nine, had been visiting her relatives in Monaca, Pa.

Strike Conference On 'White-Collar' Tieup Is Called

Officials Of Westinghouse Unions
In Strike To Meet With
WLB Members Today

PITTSBURGH Sept. 12.—(INS)—Seventeen officials of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent salaried unions will meet today in Washington with WLB officials in an attempt to settle a "white-collar" strike affecting 80,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

The WLB is expected to explain its functions to the union leaders, but is not expected to pass on the merits of the strike, caused by demands of salaried workers for an incentive bonus similar to the one enjoyed by production and hourly wage earners.

Leo F. Bollens, president of the Fwisu, accused the WLB Tuesday, of using "double talk" and maintained the workers have no faith in the board because "it is on its way out."

A company spokesman, meanwhile, revealed that plants located at Newark, N. J., Jersey City, N. J., South Philadelphia, Pa., Mansfield, O., and Sunbury, Pa., are continuing full production. These plants, the spokesman explained, are not affiliated with the union.

The spokesman estimated at 7:30 a. m. today 3600 hourly workers at the East Pittsburgh plant will be furloughed as a result of the strike.

Speaker Rayburn said flatly he would not make any announcement today.

House leaders were understood to be opposed to the suggestion of some members that the Pearl Harbor investigators be drawn at least in part from the naval and military affairs committees.

They were described as hopeful that McKellar would not name the military and naval chairmen in the Senate. This, it was said, would make it difficult for Rayburn not to follow the same pattern in picking the House members.

Some Opposition

Rayburn took the floor in opposition to one Republican proposal to require representation of the military, naval and appropriations committees on the Pearl Harbor panel.

"If the speaker is going to be told whom to appoint the speaker is going to avoid any responsibility for investigating committees," he bluntly informed the House.

The amendment in question, offered by Rep. Robinson (R-Ky.), was rejected, as was that of Republican Leader Martin to require equal representation in a 12-member committee.

Interest in the appointments was high because many members regard the Pearl Harbor investigation as the most important undertaken by Congress in years. They candidly recognize that its conduct with relation to politics, as well as the facts and findings, will have an effect on the 1946 and 1948 political campaigns.

"Tell the general nothing would give me greater pleasure than the necessity of wearing crepe—for him."

WIDOW COLLAPSES WHEN MAKING PLEA

marriage, Mrs. McKinney, visibly shaken, revealed that McKinney had threatened her life and many times subjected her to beatings and profanities.

A new development was projected into the case when Mrs. McKinney said that her husband had often expressed a desire to leave her and marry an 18-year-old Youngsville girl.

The girl, identified by Mrs. McKinney as Priscilla Dove, on one occasion visited the McKinney home.

Met "Other Woman"
"I tried to tell her," Mrs. McKinney said, "how she was breaking up and how I loved my husband and children. I told her nobody could come into my house and take care of my children under any circumstances. I asked her to leave him alone and she said she would try."

Skilfully her attorney, William I. Glassman, led her to recall the events of the night of July 15, the day prior to the tragedy.

The young mother recalled that on the day her husband had come home and had beaten her. When they retired he choked her and held her head over the edge of the bed until finally she pleaded with him to let her sleep. The clock showed it was then three a. m.

"On Monday" Wendell went to work," she related. "I packed his lunch and got his breakfast but he did not speak to me. When he came home I had his supper ready and told him he could take his bath either before or after he ate."

Would "Blow Her Brains Out"

"He went upstairs and was gone quite while. I went up and said to him 'why can't we forget it all and start all over.' He did not answer. Finally after we talked for a while he said:

"When I get out of this bathtub I am going to blow your brains out. I was fearful as it was his first threat that I ever believed. He had such a look on his face, I knew he meant it."

"I ran to the bedroom and got the gun. It was open and the bullets were sticking in it. I remember one hole didn't have a bullet in it. I shoved them down with my finger. I ran back to the bathroom and he moved up towards me. His face was crimson and then I heard a shot."

"I didn't want to kill him. I loved my husband despite his cruel treatment of me. I ran downstairs and called a doctor and neighbors."

Pa Newc's query about farm dinner bells has brought some responses. One note says that an old time dinner bell is in use on a farm on the Ellwood road, and another says a bell is being used in the Hazletcroft avenue section of the city. There are probably many more.

Pa Newc notes that a number of signs down in the main stem are being given a refreshing coat of paint. Brightening up of signs helps the appearance of Washington street.

Owen Fox's park brigade which has kept the public square in appealing condition during the summer, has been doing a little trimmings for winter. Pa Newc notes. The beds of flowers that provided a border around the square have been cut down, having completed their duty for the summer.

Out in the acreage at the end of Highland avenue, which in years past has served as location of a baseball diamond, miniature golf course, golf driving range, archery range, etc., is apparently about to witness a lot of development. A steam shovel and workmen are at work putting down a sewer system in the plot, and some streets are being laid out.

Ought to Get Real Justice
Archinal, who was chosen from among the volunteers, said:

"I think he ought to live and meet the real justice coming to him."

There was no immediate change in Tojo's condition after the direct transfusions.

Brig Gen. George W. Wright, Eighth Army surgeon, reporting on his 62-year-old arch criminal patient, said tersely today:

"Condition good; prognosis fair. Tojo, whose veins now carry American blood, is 'resting' in a closely guarded ward of the 98th U. S. Evacuation hospital south of Yokohama."

Gen. Wright also announced that Tojo will be permitted visitors "as soon as condition permits." Tojo, however, showed no disposition to "face" his fellow countrymen.

Sorry He Missed Heart

The man who admits "responsibility for the Pacific war, although foraking earlier efforts to resist medical care, still professes sorrow that the self-inflicted bullet missed his heart.

He shot himself at 4:21 p. m. Tuesday as two American officers arrived at his Tamagawa home to arrest him on orders of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

After resisting a Japanese doctor he was removed to the First Cavalry Division hospital in Meiji Park. There with American blood plasma coursing through his veins his wound was sutured.

At the Evacuation hospital—filled with liberated prisoners of war undergoing treatment for atrocities inflicted with Tojo's approval—the bitter little war lord said:

"I'm sorry I missed my heart."

Didn't Use Hara-Kiri

Speaking through an interpreter, he told Gen. Robert Eichelberger, commander of U. S. occupation forces in the Tokyo area:

"I didn't want to shoot myself through the head because it would have destroyed my features. And then the Japanese people wouldn't be able to recognize me."

Shortly after he shot himself, Tojo gasped out his explanation of his failure to employ the traditional hara-kiri method of self-destruction.

"Sometimes it isn't successful," he had muttered.

In his home, stripped of brie-a-brac by crows of newsmen and GI's, investigators found a written statement which said:

"I have done my best to serve Japan. I accept full responsibility. I am sorry for the people. I was not the leader of the nation and I do not feel I should stand trial. Bonzai the emperor."

New Castle Man Abroad
Conditions were equally bad at the Kamikida stockade, according to Lieut. Leonard Goldsmith, of Chicago. He was the senior Yank officer there along with Lieut. J. E. Ginsberg, Army medical corps, of New Castle, Pa.

Ginsberg, a survivor of the Bataan death march, said he was not permitted to help those who dropped by the wayside. He said he was "going back to New Castle and neither hell nor highwater will get me out of there."

GEN. MACARTHUR MOVES TO STRIP JAPAN OF POWER

mer Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo who plunged the Pacific into war with the Pearl Harbor attack.

Suicide Effort Causes Speed

Tojo's near-suicidal effort in an attempt to cheat America of its right to try him, prompted authorities to exercise greater care in the arrest of other accused war criminals.

The Jap Domei agency reported that Jorge B. Vargas, former puppet Philippine ambassador to Japan, was one of the first of the ill-starred 39 to be placed under military arrest at Allied headquarters in Tokyo's Imperial Hotel.

With Japanese general headquarters wiped out of existence tomorrow and Allied forces swarming into new areas of the homeland, MacArthur's hand was strong in comparison to the relatively light treatment given the Nipponese in the formative phases of the occupation.

Smooth Out Korean Situation

MacArthur moved to smooth over the disturbed Korean situation by directing Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, 24th Army Corps commander, to replace Japanese officials with

May Open Widened Curve To Traffic

John Z. Street, city engineer, reported today that the State Highway department's paving program on State street hill was such that the upper curve which has been widened and paved, may be opened to traffic Thursday.

He also reported that contractors have practically completed the Park avenue storm sewer.

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Sept. 12.—(INS)—Twenty army nurses comprising the first class to complete a course in military neuropsychiatric nursing in the Third Service Command, held diplomas today from the Valley Forge General hospital.

Members of the class included: Second Lieutenant Margaret Morris, New Castle, Pa.

Many Are Making Advance Arrangements

It is becoming quite customary to make arrangements for funeral service before the need arises. There are many reasons why this is a wise precaution.

Perhaps most important of those is assurance that both the cost and the service will be in accordance with the normal desires of a family—not something rushed into during the stress of grief.

Boyd Funeral Service invites advance arrangements. We prefer that, when needed, every family should have funeral service to meet their requirements and their means.

60th Anniversary Quiet

"A quiet day at home" will mark the 60th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. O. H. P. Green, 435 Croton avenue, Thursday, September 13. No celebration is planned by the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Green, life long residents here, were married at the Rev. Grigsby of New Castle. They have one daughter, Mrs. Noble Van Voorhis of Canton, O., who has already arrived to be with her parents on the memorable day. Her husband and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Van Voorhis, also of Canton, will join the Greens later this week.

Mr. Green, son of Capt. and Mrs. Oliver Hazard Perry Green, is an alderman of prominence here, serving in this capacity for the past 41 years. Mrs. Green is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Nixon of New Jersey.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Green have a wealth of friends in New Castle and surrounding vicinities, who join in extending congratulations, many saying it with cards and notes, expressing the thought, "Thinking of you on your 60th wedding anniversary."

W. M. S. PROGRAM
Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church held its first fall meeting at the home of Mrs. J. A. Porte, 412 Laurel boulevard, on Tuesday evening.

Theme of the devotional period which opened the program was "Flame of Vision" with Miss Sarah Dandy in charge. Mrs. Charles T. Metzler was program chairman.

Miss Lena Mae McConnell, accompanied by Mrs. William H. Luikhart, sang a solo.

Highlight of the program was a skit written by Mrs. John C. King, "Information Please". Those taking part were Mrs. Jesse McCommon, Mrs. Oliver W. Hurst, Miss Laura Strickler, Mrs. Mont Rodgers, Miss Sarah Dandy and Mrs. Charles Metzler.

Hymns with singing led by Mrs. Stanley Reese concluded the program.

During business it was announced that White Cross work to be completed in the next two months has been assigned to the various church sections. Mrs. Jesse McCommon presided.

A letter was read from Miss Elizabeth Hay, missionary in India. Lunch was served by the social committee at the close of the evening. Next meeting will be October 2 at 2 p. m. at the church.

A. U. R. GROUP
INITIAL SESSION
Mrs. John Love, Mrs. Clifford Propst and Miss Alison Leslie were co-hostesses to associates of the A. U. R. Missionary society at their first fall assembly Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the Central Presbyterian church.

Miss Helen Hurst conducted the devotional period. Interesting topics about Latin America, "The Migrant Negro" and "Lepra" were discussed by two of the members, Mrs. Clayton Holmeister and Mrs. Kenneth Kauffman.

Tasty refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostesses.

Mrs. Clayton Holmeister and Mrs. Julian Miller will entertain jointly at the church on October 9.

SOLDIER NEPHEW HONORED AT PARTY

Gurni-Campbell Nuptials
Miss Mildred Gurni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gurni of Row avenue, became the bride of Charles R. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell of Bartram avenue, at a ceremony performed Monday morning, September 10, at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's rectory. Rev. Francis McCarter officiated at the double ring service in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was attired in a green dressmaker suit, accompanied by black accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Norma Gurni, who wore a gray dressmaker suit with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses. Bernard Campbell served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. Later in the day a wedding dinner was enjoyed in a local dining room with the immediate families as guests.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Campbell departed on a honeymoon to New York City. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in Ellwood City.

The bride is employed by local Draft Board No. 2, while her husband is affiliated with the National Tube company of Ellwood City. Both are graduates of New Castle senior high school.

Grand Army Ladies
Ladies of the Grand Army held a picnic at Cascade park Tuesday afternoon. Table decorations were carried out in red, white and blue. Games were the pastimes during the afternoon with Mrs. Blanche Boston as winner.

Average Citizen And A New Normalcy

The average citizen probably has a fairly definite idea of what would satisfy him as a permanent "normal" state of things for America. It would pardonably be based upon his personal interests and ambitions. But most of the great body of Americans realize that no matter how sincerely they might yearn and strive for a restoration of conditions and comforts that were disturbed by a war, they could not be won back in a hurry.

Historians of this latest war period can hardly describe it as a time of confusion and indecision. The unforeseen and unpredictable, like the passing of the presidency from Roosevelt to Truman, is evidence of the soundness of the principles upon which the nation is founded. There has been a long line of demonstrations of the fact that the U. S. A. is created of vigorous, healthy timbers.

Persons who like to speculate upon the idea of a "normal" state are not likely to agree upon a time when the nation's innumerable divergent interests could be summarized under one general standard. The middle-aged and elderly may enjoy living over again years when the pace is slower, but even they might hesitate to call them back. The era without electricity, inside plumbing and the car at the door may not have lost its charm.

But many habits, well established in the American way of life—quiet evenings at home and neighborly visiting and the like—might prove a great bore if they could be wrought again into the tempo of living. It is doubtful whether the young men and women who have served in the armed forces and its auxiliaries would be enchanted with such a "normal."

The idea of a new normalcy is not entirely fantastic. Much that has been learned in the war years becomes instructive material for post-war planning. The ideal of a new normalcy can not be obtained by mass conventions or by law-making bodies, state or national, but must be developed from a recognition of honest needs affecting the whole nation.

Cut it Down

As the government begins the work of dismantling its war machinery, it is a comfort to feel that Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia is on hand to keep an eye on the process and push it along.

Senator Byrd has just issued a statement praising President Truman for his speed in liquidating such war agencies as the Office of Civilian Defense, the Office of Censorship, and the Office of War Information, but calling on both the President and Congress to "bend every effort" to eliminate still others.

The able Virginian, as chairman of the Joint Committee on the Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, insists that the end of the war has made many more expenditures unnecessary. He points out that more than 1,500,000 government employees have been engaged in war work and he thinks that, with the elimination of the war agencies, the payroll can be cut down to the prewar figure of a million.

That total of one million government employees, by the way, was double the number living off the taxpayers in 1933. Although the nation will be called upon to support a big and expensive military establishment for years to come and many civilian employees will be needed at Army posts, naval bases and in arms plants, the bloated state of the payroll in 1945 was such that certainly not more persons than were then employed will be necessary.

It will be interesting to note the trend of the Federal payroll in August and September. The personnel, as Senator Byrd points out, actually rose by 11,598 during the month of July, despite the German surrender two months before.

The New Invasion

Another invasion operation is shaping up in the Pacific and its outcome is quite as unpredictable as that of any landing on an alien shore. One thousand wives and babies of American service men are scheduled to leave Australia shortly for this country to start new lives in new homes thousands of miles from their native towns.

These girls do not have the handicap of language to overcome. But a great many of them new surroundings will be different and strange. They will have to adjust themselves to new ways and customs, to make new friends, and to meet new families.

American hospitality is warm enough and broad enough to take these new war brides in and make them feel at home. But they face a trying and difficult period of readjustment which is not made any easier by the fact that many war marriages are made on short acquaintance.

These girls are embarking on an adventure which is as great in some ways as that which carried their soldier-husbands overseas. Australia gave American men a warm and enthusiastic welcome. Americans will have an opportunity to return their hospitality by giving an equally friendly greeting to the invasion army of war brides which Australia is now sending to the United States.

Fatal Accidents On Farms

Farm resident deaths from accidents totalled 14,800 in 1944—5 per cent less than in 1943.

This fact is revealed in an analysis of 1944 farm accident figures contained in the National Safety Council's 1945 edition of "Accident Facts," a statistical yearbook.

A decline of about 3 per cent in the farm population and the nationwide observance of the first National Farm Safety Week undoubtedly were factors in the decrease, the council said.

Farm work accidents accounted for 4,300 of the fatalities and resulted in more than 225,000 non-fatal injuries.

But farm home accidents took an even greater toll, the council points out. About 6,000 farm residents were killed by accidents in their homes and 900,000 others were injured.

Fire, perennial rural enemy, destroyed farm property worth about $90,000,000, one-fifth of the national fire loss.

Service men overseas are reported to have three desires. First is to return home. Ditto. Ditto.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Real Housecleaning Is Needed In Japan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—Most Americans must be sorely puzzled about the nature of the American occupation of Japan.

We come as conquerors presumably with the mission of righting the terrible wrongs done by the Japanese aggressors and demilitarizing that war-like nation. Yet they receive us as though we had come at their invitation. One Japanese newspaper had the nerve to say that if they were to have a military government, they would prefer their own military.

The pretense is carefully maintained through all the propaganda channels of radio and press that the surrender came not as a result of Allied strength but out of Emperor Hirohito's noble desire to save human life. So far as we can tell over here, nothing has been done to interfere with those propaganda channels. American correspondents complain bitterly that the official Japanese news agency is scooping them on American troop movements.

Militarist Go Underground
At the same time we get eyewitness accounts of how the militarists are going underground with all they can salvage of present strength. These accounts are in such circumstantial detail that they must have at least a background of truth.

All this comes while we are reading one appalling horror after another. The bestiality of the Japanese apparently had no limits.

The two simply do not go together. Put side by side, the curious, so-called peace occupation and the black record of cruelty create a feeling of frustration and futility.

Perhaps it is merely that we need to know more about the ultimate goal. Even in his latest statement General MacArthur was not too definite. In fact, he simply repeated the general objective of the Potsdam Declaration.

"Broad Policy"

Correspondents close to MacArthur have gone out of their way to stress that the state department is setting a "broad policy," while the general is carrying it out in "broad detail." But MacArthur has had enough experience to know that no matter what stands in the shadow, setting the policy, the praise or the blame will be his.

MacArthur's own point of view on the Far East is extremely interesting in this connection. Almost everyone who has talked with him, during his long sojourn in the Pacific, has come back with the same report.

It is MacArthur's belief that if we have a future as a nation, it lies in the Pacific. It lies in raising the standards of millions of Asiatics who have lived near or even below the subsistence level.

He believes that Europe is finished. In talking with his visitors he often expressed this in a fierce resentment of the fact that a preponderance of material was going to the European theater. Partly, of course, this could be put to the understandable resentment of a theater commander jealous of the advancement of his own forces.

Deeper Meaning

But it went deeper than that. MacArthur's conviction about the Pacific has some of the mystical overtones of Homer Lea, the strange little American whose book, "The Valor of Ignorance," may well have helped to shape MacArthur's point of view. As a footnote, it is interesting to record that the Lea book was recently brought out of obscurity and re-published with an introduction by Congressman Clare Boothe Luce, who is one of MacArthur's most enthusiastic admirers.

Knowing the Far East as well as he does, MacArthur must realize that standards in Asia cannot be raised with the old gang in control. It was the business-militarist gang—the Zaibatsu—who held the masses in Japan in feudal servitude. That was essential to their plan for world domination.

The more respectable members of this coalition assumed the role of moderates and represented themselves to our diplomats as out of sympathy with the ambitions of the military. This deception worked all too well.

General MacArthur has a great responsibility and at the same time a great opportunity. He can become the symbol of a new day in the Far East. Such a place in history would be ample enough for even MacArthur's boundless ambition.

But he cannot play that role against the backdrop of a discredited past. A lot of house cleaning is still to be done.

A lot of people have found out this summer that Cascade Park is a good thing to have.

Taking good care of returning soldiers when they return will be important. Do all you can.

Many a man in love with a dimple makes the mistake of marrying the whole girl.

CONFIDENCE

Business friendships are like social ones.

Your friends did not develop from casual acquaintance at the first meeting. It took weeks and in some cases months for them to come to a full realization of mutual respect and confidence.

Business friendships are built on confidence too. . . and confidence is something you must earn. Friendships must be won on merit and worth.

In other words, confidence is one of the foundations or fundamentals of successful advertising and salesmanship.

The future of any business depends on the measure of confidence it is able to inspire today.

If a two-wheeled vehicle is called a bicycle, and a three-wheeler is called a tricycle, a one-wheeler should be called anicycle. But it isn't—it's a wheelbarrow!

Many people have found out this summer that a good thing to have is a garden.

Things you don't want are usually cheap.

There is a woman behind every successful man, also in front and on each side of him.

Coverheard on the bus: "I don't care for her bathing suit. It's old-fashioned. But outside of that, she is all right."

With the release of gas rationing and the consequent lifting of the 45-mile speed limit, a small town on U. S. 40 was confronted with the problem of slowing down the highway traffic. One day the Mayor gave a speeding motorist a warning to slow down which was not heeded. So his Honor at once sent a traffic policeman to catch him.

"Why did you ignore the Mayor's sign?" demanded the cop.

"Oh," replied the motorist, "I thought that was another hitch-hiker thumbing his way."

Everybody wants to be smart, but only a few know how.

A good bank account helps a lot in hiding a bad reputation.

We overheard two marines talking about girls for girls.

"I just got back from the South Seas," one of them said, "and I'd like to bring my girl a present when I call on her, but I don't know what to get."

"Does she like you," asked the other.

"Well, your troubles about the present are over. If she likes you, she'll like anything."

All right, refuse to have children. But when will you find people to give a darn about you in your lonely old age?

It is amazing how little you can get along with when you just have to.

We spoil children and then try to reform them after they have become grownups.

The absence of a few square meals is guaranteed not only to make you hungry, but also to make you think.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

HOW TO TEACH INATTENTIVE CHILD

Having taught at all grade levels and for a number of years in teachers' training colleges, I try to speak and write sympathetically about teachers. But there is one practice by some teachers (and parents writing me quote them) that gives me a pain in the neck. Here is a sample: "Marie is receiving failing grades and much unfavorable criticism from her teachers due to the fact, and I quote, 'she does not pay attention and is not interested.'"

Just what does the teacher making such a report expect the mother to do? Does she want her to scold or whip the child for not being attentive and interested in her lessons? Does any sensible teacher suppose that scoldings and punishments at home will make a child more attentive and interested at school? Even if the lack of attention at school is expressed in mischief, home punishment for such can hardly be effective.

Common Sense

Most teachers have had some psychology, though it hasn't always soaked into them. Even plain common sense should cause them to make a more useful report to the parent. The parent wants to know just why her child is not attentive and interested. She already knows why her child is not doing well in any particular subject he is not greatly interested in it, and that when he is not interested he does not pay close attention to it.

The same applies to you and me. About the most foolish thing to do is to command a child to be interested or even pay attention. We can, of course, require him to sit and look as if he were attentive, but even then his attention might be a thousand miles away.

Perhaps the teacher should not be criticized but the persons who trained her to teach. Most teaching and writing on interest leaves the impression that we must in some manner get a child to be interested or even pay attention. We can, of course, require him to sit and look as if he were attentive, but even then his attention might be a thousand miles away.

When a child reads well he is rapidly interested and attentive. Instead of thinking and saying the child learns best when he is most interested and attentive we should think and say he is most interested and attentive when he learns best, and so because he is succeeding we need to find ways to help him enjoy success at reading, spelling and the like, then we can keep him from being interested in these subjects nor from working harder and harder at them. This way leads him to doing only what he can succeed at, however easy it may be.

It is necessary to know that we require the child to conform to certain regulations, to be in a certain place and not engage in activities foreign to the thing at hand and that, once he has homework, he shall be home on nights before school and go to this homework regularly and do all mechanical things assigned. No bulletin. Parents and the child's homework may be had for a stamped envelope.

Why in the name of sanity should the Japs be permitted to broadcast their propaganda, though we gave no such privilege to the Germans?

The Full Employment Bill is an ideal political measure. All can win favor by supporting it and it doesn't commit anybody to anything.

Learned work out. The ladies have things to be mechanical so they'll know how to manage the wonderful new home gadgets.

Men may come and men may go, but the brook and taxes and likes go on forever.

CHURCH BLESSING ON WAR MARRIAGE

"My husband is now on his way home from the army. A year ago we were hurriedly married before he went overseas. Now we would like to be married in my church. Since I am only twenty years old, I should like to be married in a bridal gown and veil and have a reception—both of which I missed through lack of time to make preparations. Would this plan be proper? If not, what do you suggest?"

Answer: Every girl has the privilege of wearing a white wedding dress and veil on her life—the first time she marries. And the first time only!

Since you are already a matron even though you are only twenty, you must not wear this symbol of maidenhood. More appropriate and very attractive would be a pastel, long afternoon dress with a matching beaded dress with a shawl, long afternoon dress with a matching beaded dress with a shawl, long afternoon dress with a matching beaded dress with a shawl.

This you may wear at your church ceremony and the reception, following.

You may, if you prefer, wear a white dress but it must not be a formal bridal gown. It must not have a train and you must not wear even a finger-tip bridal veil.

You may, corrected, have only two attendants—a maid-of-honor and a best man. If the church is large you may have two ushers, but no bridesmaids in an informal wedding. If you wear a long, afternoon dress, the men of the wedding party may wear cutaway coats and striped trousers (formal daytime clothes).

Question: Which is the groom's side and which is the bride's side of the church?

Answer: The left side of the church facing the chancel is always the bride's side and the right side is always the groom's.

Future Prospects Look Frightening To Writer
Human Beings Now Tail Wagging Science's Dog
Many New Contrivances Are Really To Be Feared

By HELEN ESSARY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—This self-important capital, now that the hour of surrender has passed, seems to me like a world swept clean by a great tornado.

Peace, after the worst holocaust in the history of mankind, has come to us at last. But it is a peace bought at an awful price.

As we creep out of the storm cellars in which each of us hid after our own fashion while the war raged, we are shocked at the extent of the destruction. We see trees down, cities flat, houses wiped out. Many are homeless, jobless, without much hope for the future.

Grim Task

The task ahead is grim and dispiriting. No more hurrah to whip us on. No more beating of drums and shouts of patriotism and world saving. No more orders to report next Tuesday at some spot which, however hateful it may prove to be at the moment, gives promise of adventure and a deed gloriously done.

We must look after ourselves for a while now. Nobody will tell us what to do and lend us unchecked sums with which to do it. You and I will have to prop up our own tumbled down civilization. Clear away the wreckage of insanity. Start life fresh. Change to a new gear. Turn a clear, sane page.

Prospect Frightens

The prospect frightens me. Especially since science, having sprung ahead so far, has made the human being into the tail that wags the scientific dog. We think we are everlastingly smart. We are smart. But we are still lopsided thinkers. And mostly crazy with victory.

Recently we sat in our homes and listened to Gen. Douglas MacArthur accept the surrender of Japan in Tokyo—12,000 miles away. Then came pictures of the surrender ceremonies shown in newspapers across the nation. Pictures made a few hours before transmitted by radio across half the surface of the earth and presented to us at the breakfast or dinner table. Undoubtedly, black magic! Not very long ago anybody who had prophesied such goings on would have been looked up in a mad-house under iron.

Black Magic

The magic of that, owing to the vagaries of that non-existent boundary known as the International Date Line, we heard and saw these events half a day before they had happened. Food and foodstuffs, said Alice to the White Rabbit.

Foodstuffs and foodstuffs will be the provisions that science and the manufacturers will thrust on us. I'm a sort of slow moving female. I had once caught up with the scientific wonders of the last era during the non-productive days of the war. Had he the means to plug an electric toaster cord into the side wall without blowing out a fuse. And now I tremble at the new appliances and labor-saving devices that will bound me.

The contrivance that I most fear is a thought-reading machine. I insist on keeping a few thoughts to myself and quite believe that language is given us to conceal our good and evil ideas.

The World and the Mud Puddles

Any idea that signing of surrender papers by the Japs automatically will end the war must be dispelled by noting the huge number of enemy troops still scattered over various parts of Asia and the far reaches of the Pacific. There are pockets of Japanese troops—many of them deliberately by-passed by our forces and cut off from communication with their own—along the way from New Guinea to the Kuriles and the Jap half of Sakhalin. There are large enemy forces in Borneo, Java, Thailand, Burma, Malaya, the Celebes, and French Indo-China. There are still large numbers even in the Philippines and the Bonin archipelago. East China is supposed to harbor at least two hundred fifty thousand. South China nearly half a million. North China three hundred thousand. Formosa three hundred thousand. Manchuria six hundred fifty thousand. Korea three hundred thousand. It is estimated that the total of enemy troops outside the Japanese homeland approximates twenty-five hundred thousand.

The Soviet forces in all probability will take care of demobilization and immunization of the enemy in Korea, Manchuria and Sakhalin. They may also give assistance in certain Chinese areas. The Chinese will be expected to handle matters in the various sections of that country. But we will have an enormous task to clean up all the scattered island troops and restore complete American domination in these sectors. In view of the treacherous and treacherous character of the Jap fighting men, it is not unlikely that our forces will encounter murderous underground resistance in many areas where fanatical enemies will order annihilation to surrender.

General MacArthur has taken on a large order in the attempt to bring order out of this widespread chaos. It is by no means certain that the job can be completed without sacrifice of many more American lives.

Home Economist Notes Change Made By Home Food - Freezing

"Put 'em in the freezer," says the housewife of the future as her husband brings a bushel of tomatoes from whatever is the post-war substitute for victory gardens.

By that time the traditional bride's can-opener will have been exchanged for a deep-freeze unit and everything will be much simpler.

"And possibly her husband will be better nourished," according to Miss Mary Ellen McClain, home economics extension representative for Lawrence county. Miss McClain was speaking of the changing interests which she has noted during her work as extension representative with the biggest switch of interest being the one away from canning and toward freezing.

All Out For Freezers

"Here in Lawrence county, before many persons have had a chance to give the process a trial, they are completely sold on the idea and are deeply interested in our demonstration which we have presented."

It's not just reaction from shortness of canning sugar. Other wartime measures designed to take the place of canning with sugar didn't go over so well. Miss McClain found out.

"Dehydrating takes too much equipment, and hasn't been popular at all. Canning with salt hasn't won many advocates either; people would rather just not bother. Blue points are a thing of the past anyway."

But in frozen foods, the process of canning faces a challenge which it doesn't seem able to meet. Simplicity, appearance, taste are all on the side of the cold storage edibles, and what about the nourishment? Remember, I said the husband of the bride of the future may be better nourished? In both cooking and dehydrating, more vitamins and minerals are lost than are lost in freezing. Vitamins keep better at low temperatures and are lost thru too much exposure or heat."

Rural Road Program Is Planned For State

Plans Are In Prospect For Improving 25,000 Miles Of Secondary Roads In State

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—(INS)—State Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer planned today to meet with engineers "within two weeks" to launch a $10,000,000 rural road program.

Plans to improve 25,000 miles of secondary highway have been drafted on a limited scale, Shroyer said, and will be expanded as soon as adequate manpower and materials permit. Roads marked for improvement carry 300 or fewer cars a day.

"The work will include grading, draining and surfacing," he said. "While not all back roads will be covered with bituminous, the program calls for stabilizing dirt routes with gravel or rock."

Financing Plan

The project will be financed partially with federal funds, the percentage of which has not been determined, it was added.

During the past 14 years, the state has worked over 20,000 miles of farm-to-market roads at a cost of $127,000,000 in an effort to "keep the farmer out of the mud," Shroyer declared. The peacetime program will be "considerably more extensive," he added.

Meanwhile, representatives of farm organizations emphasized that present road conditions were a handicap to marketing.

"Better travel conditions would be quite a boon to farmers in transporting truck crops, especially," a livestock dealer said. "Food can be delivered faster and will arrive in a fresher, better condition."

"Farmers suffer financial losses in bruised fruits and eggs broken through delivery," he added.

Many Veterans Seek To Become Aviation Mechanics

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(INS)—When one's heart is in the sky but fate decrees the body must remain on the ground, the next best thing to do is to become an aviation mechanic.

That's exactly what 48 discharged World War II veterans are doing at the Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics. The hard-working group includes one War—Mrs. Natalie Logue of Pittsburgh, who says:

"I don't care if I ever pilot my own plane or not. But just let me be around the airfields and I'll be happy."

Former Lieut. James H. Beeler of Waynesburg, Pa., holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and the presidential unit citation, summed up the attitude of the men with: "Sure, I'm nuts about airplanes, but I'll watch the other guys fly from now on. I'm going to keep my feet on the ground for a while after completing 78 missions over Germany. But I'll keep the planes in good running order for the rest of the fellows."

DESTROYER HOLDS NAVAL PILOT FOR ICE CREAM RANSOM

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(INS)—Ensign Winthrop R. Hanawalt, U. S. N., told how he was held for ransom by an American destroyer which picked him up after his plane was forced down in the Pacific. The ransom—25 gallons of ice cream—was gladly paid by the carrier to which he was attached. Hanawalt, who has been returned to the states for a leave, said that it was an old navy custom.

Payroll Suffers Result Of Strike

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(INS)—A number of hourly employees at the East Pittsburgh plant of Westinghouse Electric Corporation were not paid today because there was no one to make up the payroll.

A company spokesman said today is the first payday since a strike Monday by "white collar" workers. He estimated 18,000 non-salaried workers would not be paid by Friday unless the strike is terminated.

Japanese Claims On Atomic Bomb Are Discounted

Conditions At Bomb Test Site Show Jap Claims Are Entirely False
By H. K. REYNOLDS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Sept. 12.—The men who produced America's atomic bomb have given the lie to Japanese claims that the Hiroshima target area is still dangerous ground because of continuing X-ray activity.

To demonstrate the falsity of the Japanese propaganda, the bombmakers, headed by Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, last Sunday opened the bomb-test site in New Mexico to inspection by newspapermen and photographers.

Although radio activity is continuing in the vicinity of the world's first atomic bomb explosion, last July 16, the scientists who made the bomb say that the X-ray emanations here are more powerful than those at Hiroshima. The New Mexico bomb was detonated on a steel tower only 100 feet above the ground while the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombs were dropped from airplanes and exploded at a much greater height.

Both Gen. Groves and Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer, the brilliant young physicist who is credited with the actual development of the atomic bomb as a military weapon, declared that the bomb was designed as a demolition agent and that post-explosion radioactivity is a secondary and minor manifestation.

Visit Scene

As a part of the official demonstration of the continuing ground reaction following the release of atomic energy, I was among a group of newspapermen who were flown from Washington and Chicago to the army B-29 base in southern New Mexico.

On the bomb site, embracing a devastated area in the form of a circle 4,800 feet in diameter, I was exposed to X-ray bombardment from the radioactive ground for more than an hour without any apparent harmful effects.

The radiating material, activated by the explosion in July, is an elemental form of green glass, created by the instantaneous melting, through the application of millions of degrees of atomic heat, of the desert sand over an area forming a circle 2,400 feet in diameter.

Gen. Groves, director of the Manhattan engineer district, the secret bomb project, and other officials have been perturbed by efforts of Japanese propagandists to paint a horrible picture in American minds of the indefinite continuation of a harmful X-ray reaction at Hiroshima.

They fear that the Japanese are making an effort to sell the idea among Americans that the United States, by using the atomic bomb, was the cause of the disaster.

"We are informed, despite Japanese press reports to the contrary, that radioactivity near the impact point of the Hiroshima bomb was less than tolerance in 11 days, and that most of the casualties were caused by (1) blast and building collapse and (2) burns from radiant heat and fire," he said.

Truman Side-Steps Question On Policy

News Conference Question On Administration Policy Fails To Get Answer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—President Truman neatly side-stepped a news conference question today regarding the course his administration would pursue.

The chief executive was asked whether he viewed his administration as being to the "left" or "right."

Mr. Truman said that that is something he would have to work out in his administration. The chief executive observed as an afterthought, that he was not going to give reporters a lead on that subject.

The late President Roosevelt, in response to a similar news conference question had described himself as being "left of center."

Says Six Million Soldiers Will Be Out By July 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson told the Senate Military Affairs committee today that the Army is being demobilized rapidly but that draft of new men must be continued indefinitely.

Summoned before the committee by Senators worried over protests from home against slow demobilization, Patterson vigorously defended Army plans and offered some hope of speeding up discharges.

Five Trainmen Are Injured In Wreck

AVELLA, Pa., Sept. 12.—(INS)—Five trainmen were injured and 11 cars derailed today when two Pittsburgh & West Virginia freight trains collided one mile east of Avella, Washington county.

Taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Pittsburgh, for burns were Brent P. Hall, 30, Franklin Platt, 31, and Joseph H. Koltz, 34, all of Carnegie. R. M. Brown, 36, Canton, O., and Earl Bailey, 32, Massillon, O., were treated by a physician for minor injuries.

Robert Sterling Is Released From Army

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—(INS)—An early return to pictures was on the program today for Ronald Reagan and Robert H. Sterling, film actors just out of the army.

Both had been in the army air forces since the spring of 1942. Reagan as a captain and Sterling as a first lieutenant, and both were discharged at the army separation center in San Pedro yesterday.

TO ASK $2 PER DAY BOOST
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The CIO-United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America today voted to ask for a $2-a-day wage boost already approved by the United Steel Workers union.

Representatives of 24 local unions of the UERMWA representing 80,000 Westinghouse Electric Corporation employees voted for the raise because of the increased cost of living.

Over Two Hundred Enter Displays In Croton Flower Show

Fourteen Youngsters Win Prizes In Exhibit Which Covers Second Floor Hall Of School

Banking the second floor hall of Croton school with a mass of color, 215 entries in the school's flower and vegetable show were judged Tuesday afternoon, and fourteen of the displays were awarded prizes. Ten other youngsters received honorable mention, according to Mrs. Morfitt Brown.

Among the entries were all sorts of flower displays, canned fruit, fresh fruit and vegetables, and small "people" and "animals" made from vegetables. Background music was provided by Mrs. Dorothy Patch Purdie, music teacher at the school, while the children walked around to look at the exhibit.

Prizes to Fourteen
Awards were made by Miss Ruth Lewis, assisted by Miss Mildred Sargent, to the following pupils: most beautiful vase of flowers, Jack Benninghoff; most beautiful basket, Joann McCreary; smallest bouquet, Shirley Bender; most uniform, Joann Ruben; best mixed bouquet, Patricia Teger; largest vegetable, James McFarland; smallest vegetable, Patty Tanner; most unusual vegetables, Kay Koteishi; best collection of vegetables, Shirley Perkins; unique vegetable doll, Ann Poschick; best arrangement of asters, Billy Book; best collection of fruit, Betty Malley; best arrangement of flowers, Angelina Motto; most artistic arrangement, Charlene Porter; best class collection, the first grade class.

Honorable mention exhibits belonged to: Thomas Lutton, George Smith, Betty Foster, Dolores Carvello, Frances Seamon, Ellen Lutton, Beverly Thompson, Mary Lou Finner, Benny Nelson, and George Booth. Cooperation of parents with pupils and teachers made the show a success, stated Mrs. Brown, art and geography teacher at the school, who was general chairman of the entire display.

Attlee Warns That Europe Is Facing Intense Distress

BLACKPOOL, Eng. Sept. 12 (INS)—British Minister, Clement Richard Attlee today predicted that the European continent will face "intense distress" this winter.

He warned at the same time in a speech before the trades union council conference that the position of Britain "will not be easy."

Attlee said he could hold out no hope of great improvements in the near future and demanded "patience and hard work in the testing time ahead."

The prime minister urged both patience and good will in dealings regarding a settlement of European middle east, far east and Indian problems.

He thanked Canada for the interim monetary arrangements under which British financial needs "can be met until the end of the year."

Concerning the negotiations entrusted to the Earl of Halifax in Washington to arrange a transitional agreement as a result of the cancellation of American lend-lease, Attlee said the paramount task of his ambassador was to insure that essential supplies which were ordered under lend-lease will continue to reach Britain.

After this, Attlee said the British will seek a long-term arrangement until Britain can get on its feet.

Forty Hours At St. Joseph's Church

Devotions At St. Joseph's Church Start Thursday Morning; Closing Sunday Even

Forty-hour devotions at St. Joseph's church will open Thursday morning at nine o'clock with a solemn high mass of exposition. Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, celebrant; Rev. Fr. John M. Unzer, deacon; and Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, sub-deacon.

Solemn procession of the Blessed Sacrament will follow the solemn high mass.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings services will be conducted at the church at 7:30 o'clock. Sunday morning the solemn mass of exposition will be offered at 10 o'clock, and in the evening solemn benediction at 7:30 o'clock will bring services to a close.

Society AND Clubs

BESSEMER WOMAN'S CLUB FIRST MEETING

Bessemer Woman's club launched another busy season, meeting in the Bessemer Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening for their initial session. A large attendance answered roll call, president, Mrs. Joseph Henderson, presiding.

Their club calendar for the approaching months is one full of promise. Many interesting and inspiring features have been arranged by the entertainment committee.

Also, gratifying reports were contributed by the following chairmen: finance, Mrs. A. G. Snyder; civic, Mrs. Wilbur Miller; war service, Mrs. W. F. Davis; Red Cross, Mrs. Roy Henderson; Girl Scout, Mrs. Axel Anderson; program, Mrs. Roy Wallace; ways and means, Mrs. Wilbur Stanley; flowers, Mrs. Charles Nelson.

Mrs. Roy DeArment, program chairman, introduced as speaker, Mrs. Marian Foster Smith of Saxonburg, who delighted with a most enlightening talk. She chose for her subject, "Ten Rooms in Your House of Life." She made a comparison of lives to a ten-room house, suggesting each home having a room set aside for religion, music, books, poems, art, sentiment and understanding, outdoor life, sports, food and war. This was given as a foundation for a harmonious and happy American home.

Two violin selections were offered for the musical feature by Joseph Martin. Mrs. A. G. Snyder was accompanist.

A social period and informal get-together rounded out the session with Mrs. Lawrence Stanley and her committee in charge of refreshments. Next meeting will be held on October 9 at the same place.

S. E. B. CLASS OPENS SEASON ON TUESDAY

Members of S. E. B. Class were received in the home of Mrs. Roy Miller, 315 Fairfield avenue, Tuesday evening with president, Stella Hove, in charge.

After a discussion of fall activities Mrs. H. F. Hemmingsway presented in an interesting manner, the topic "Beginning things for a New Peace-time Year." An informal discussion ensued. An informal social time followed. Committee in charge composed of Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. Sara Wallace and Miss Viola Wallace.

October meeting will be with Mrs. John Colgan, hostess.

Round-Up Club

Members of the Round-Up club will have a corn roast Thursday evening on the lawn of the home of Mrs. A. J. Capezio, Agnew street, weather permitting. The activities will get under way at seven o'clock. In case of bad weather it will be held in the club rooms. Hostesses are: Mrs. Joseph Bordonaro, Jr., Mrs. Nick Tuscano, Mrs. James Copple, Mrs. John George, Mrs. Frank Santa, Mrs. Angelo Colella and Mrs. William Russo.

Admiral Shimada Now Under Arrest

NAVY MINISTER IN TOJO CABINET ACCUSED OF PLOTTING WAR Held By Yanks

TOKYO, Sept. 12 (INS)—Adm. Shigetarō Shimada, navy minister in ex-Premier Hideko Tojo's cabinet, was arrested today at his home.

Shimada was taken into custody as Tojo himself showed improvement after an American army agent gave a direct blood transfusion to save the Jap war lord from a self-inflicted bullet wound so he may be tried as a war criminal.

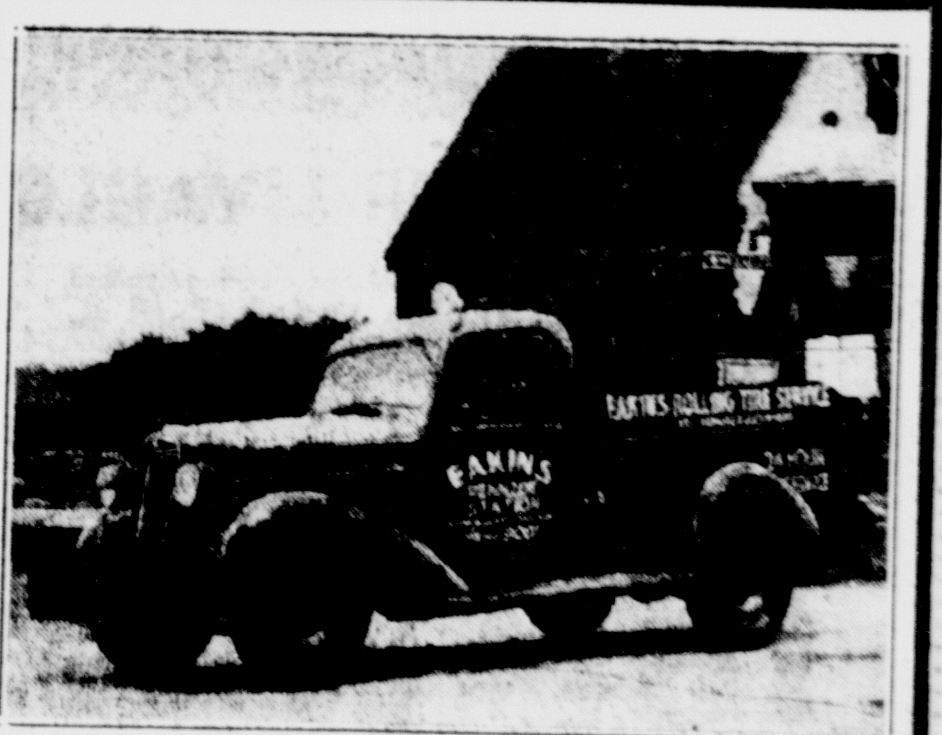

A reliable report said that Field Marshal Sugiyama, commander of the Japanese first area army, had killed himself.

Shimada was arrested at his home between Tokyo and Yokohama by the same Major Paul Krause who arrested Tojo. Shimada submitted quietly.

C.I.O. Favors $2 Per Day Boost In Steel Pay

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The wage policy committee of the C.I.O.-United Steelworkers of America today favored a $2-a-day wage hike for nearly 550,000 workers in the Basic Steel industry to offset wage cuts after the war boom.

Philip Murray, USWA president, said "justification" for the proposed increase would be given in detail at a conference of union heads and company officials tentatively set for September 25.

The boost was approved yesterday at a meeting of the union's executive board and wage policy committee. At today's meeting the committee will discuss ways to further collective bargaining conferences with employers.

Tin Cans Being Collected Here

The rattle of tin cans is accompanying the rustle of school book pages this week in the schools of the city and county. The final tin can drive under the O.C.D. is under way and it is hoped that a record collection will be turned in.

As to whether or not this will be end of tin can collections in the schools, nothing definite is known. The O.C.D. is being disbanded but the need for tin continues. It is possible that some new arrangement will be made but no announcement has been made on this as yet.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS ATTEND ELLWOOD RETREAT

Local Salvation Army officers Thelma Dundon and Mary Verner are attending a two-day retreat for all officers of the Western Pennsylvania division at Camp Ellwood.

The campers attended a meeting in Butler Tuesday evening, with cadets who are leaving for Salvation Army training also present. Nearly 100 officers, representing 39 corps, are in attendance at the discussions and meetings at Camp Ellwood.

James K. Lamoree Given Promotion

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 12.—Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation today announced the appointment of James K. Lamoree as assistant chief engineer of the Pittsburgh district.

Mr. Lamoree is a native of Pittsburgh and a graduate of Carnegie Tech where he received his degree in mechanical engineering in 1914.

He started his service with United States Steel Corporation in October 1912 at the Shequana Works of American Sheet and Tin Plate company at New Castle. In September of 1936 he was transferred to Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's South Works as development and estimating engineer. In February 1945 he came to Pittsburgh general offices as senior staff engineer, the post he held until his present appointment.

Mr. Lamoree succeeds Fred H. Johnson who has been transferred to the Chicago district.

NOMINATIONS BY GASTON POST

Officers Are Nominated At Meeting In Legion Home Tuesday; Election Later In Month

Nomination of officers for the coming year was entered into by Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at their meeting in the Legion Home Tuesday evening. Election will take place at the meeting of the post on Tuesday evening, September 25.

Leon A. Drumm, who has been senior vice commander during the past year, was nominated for commander, and Junior Vice Commander Gene Schweinsberg was nominated for senior vice commander. Attorney Joseph Solomon was nominated for junior vice commander, Dr. Hyman A. Frank, finance officer; William V. Brooks and Earl C. Moffatt, chaplain; James R. Mead, sergeant at arms; Lee R. Hanna, trustee, and to be members of the house committee, five of whom are to be elected: Clarence S. Jarrett, J. Nick Speed, Albert Wilkins, R. L. Boyd, Dr. Harry I. Botwin, Tom Edmunds, Walter G. Dietterle, Robert Speed, Leat B. Calvin, Paul L. Rowland, Sr. Anthony Chirazzi.

A large number of World War II members were taken into membership at last night's meeting, and an intensive membership campaign was outlined to get under way at once. Men now in the armed forces are eligible for membership in the American Legion, since the cessation of hostilities on V-J Day, and will be admitted to membership at a reduced rate, it was stated by membership chairman, Leon A. Drumm.

Psychiatrist Is Heard At Lions' Club Meeting

Urging a rational approach to the problem of returning veterans who are nervous or mentally ill, Dr. Elizabeth Veach, a psychiatrist of New Wilmington, addressed the Lions club Tuesday at noon in The Castleton hotel upon the subject "Civilian Responsibility to the Returning Veteran."

Dr. Veach stressed the fact that she was talking of the relatively few who have become nervous or have "broken" mentally under the strain of war and not of the vast majority who will return to civilian life with little or no adjustment.

"The problem of the mentally affected veteran has to be met carefully, not with pity but with charity," said she. "Every person has a breaking point and none of us can say what the breaking point of another is, not even of ourselves. These unfortunate men have been torn away from the privacy of civilian life, subjected to the regimentation and discipline of military life and through no fault of their own have broken."

She reminded the club that mental illness should be looked upon in the same light as physical illness, that it was something to be treated by qualified persons and that properly treated in many cases the men would return to normal lives.

Following her address King Lion Harvey B. Bish thanked her on behalf of the Lions club for an interesting and educational address.

Fall Festival At Rose Avenue School Tuesday

Opening the fall and winter season, the Rose Avenue Parent-Teachers Association held its fall festival Tuesday night in the school auditorium on Rose avenue. About 100 were present with President Mrs. Clyde B. Hennon presiding.

The program opened with the report of the secretary and treasurer, and the report of the delegates to the Pittsburgh conference of P.T.A. Following the business session the program was presented by the program chairman Mrs. Clare Hald.

Second grade students provided the program of the evening, singing the rooms of Miss Lucille Lutton and Mrs. Edward Bollard taking part. The flag presentation was made followed by the audience singing the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" by the students of the second grade.

An introductory period was held and Angela and Philip Fava presented several selections on the accordion and drums. The Fall Festival or presentation of flowers, fruit and vegetables raised by the second graders was then held, and the audience by singing "Good-night Members."

The Social Committee then took over and served tea and as a reward for the good attendance of second graders, the youngsters were served refreshments.

It was an auspicious opening of the season's activities and it is hoped the next meeting on the second Tuesday of October with the fifth graders featured, an even larger crowd will be present.

Home Near Mercer Hit By Lightning

MERCER, Sept. 12.—The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford North, about three miles north of Mercer on the Mercer-Greenville road was struck by lightning during an electrical storm which visited this section about 7:30 Monday evening.

The bolt apparently struck the lightning conductor, and connected with the soil pipe from the bath room. Slight fire was started in the attic, but was extinguished before extensive damage was done. The lightning followed the soil pipe to the bath room where the connections were melted and plaster knocked off. The house was filled with smoke.

The damage has not been estimated as yet.

With New Castle Afro Americans

Mrs. Lela Rowe, 1006 South Jefferson street, will be hostess this evening to the South Side Mothers' club. Recently the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Magnolia Gunn, Motavia street. Lunch was served by Mrs. Gunn, aided by Misses Naomi and Rose Marie Hill.

A concert featuring the Cosmopolitan gospel singers, will be presented in the Union Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. James Cox of Willard avenue will entertain Saturday, September 16, at a corn roast at her home.

Wednesday prayer meeting will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Mission, 224 Mahoning avenue.

Demobilization Program Given Public Hearing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The senate military affairs committee holds a "full dress" public hearing today on demobilization plans which have caused widespread discussion in congress and flooded members with mail from their constituents.

Secretary of War Stimson and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, were asked to present the army's situation. Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King were invited to outline navy plans.

The committee was advised that Marshall was out of town but competent witnesses would appear in his place.

Inquiry Ordered
The formal inquiry was ordered after the committee rejected a suggestion of Sen. Thomas (D) Utah chairman, that it meet with the Mead committee on disposition of material. The military group insisted that "human demobilization" be considered first.

Sen. Revercomb (R) W. Va., who demanded that "human demobilization" be the first business of the committee, said that he was seeking a policy of permitting enlistments in the army for one year.

Fathers with dependents should be brought home, he declared. "I believe that with one-year enlistments we can provide for our armies of occupation, but they must cut the army under two and a half million."

Revercomb said that an army of one million should be sufficient to occupy both Germany and Japan.

Not Fast Enough
He declared that the army is not discharging men fast enough even after they return them from overseas.

In addition to top military and naval officials, the committee may call enlisted men to give their opinions on the discharge plans.

Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., ranking majority member on the committee, said "we must give the enlisted men a chance to be heard on this question if we can work out proper safeguards to protect them against fear of reprisals from their commanding officers."

Meanwhile, Sen. Connally (D) Tex., disclosed that Texans in the second division, which served in Europe, had sent a group protest against orders to go to Japan to serve in the army of occupation.

Truman's Choice

IT IS RUMORED in Washington circles that President Truman is about to select Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson (above) to fill the Owen D. Roberts' vacancy on the Supreme Court. (International)

Poor Digestion? ☐
Headachy? ☐
Sour or Upset? ☐
Tired-Listless? ☐

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢.

TEMPER RUINED BY RECONVERSION TO CIVILIAN LIFE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Mrs. Victoria Mix Robinson, widow of the late cowboy star, Tom Mix, had a divorce from her second husband, Earl Robinson, today on the ground that reconversion to civilian life, after he had been in the Army, ruined his disposition.

"He changed after he got out of the service," she testified. "He was just too abusive, quarrelsome and insulting. He would walk out if anyone said anything at all he didn't like."

Robinson recently was discharged as an Army Air Force flyer.

OFFICIALLY REPORTED LOST

GROVE CITY, Sept. 12.—William D'Armore, quartermaster 3-c, and Bert Donaldson, S 1-c, local Navy men listed as missing at sea since July 24, are officially reported lost in messages received by the families.

The two boys, with Arthur Fischer of Grove City and Joseph Ott of Forestville, were missing in the sinking of the destroyer "Underhill". No further word has been received concerning Fischer and Ott.

Pittsburgher To Get Appointment As Federal Judge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—John J. McConnell of Pittsburgh today may be named judge of the Third Federal Circuit court.

"The appointment has been agreed upon," said Sen. Guffey (D) Pa., "although I do not know the date."

Appointment of second judge in the Third Circuit, it is understood, will be delayed for an indefinite period.

Stuttgart, Germany, was famous for a library collection of 8,500 Bibles, printed in approximately 100 different languages.

Congress Sends Big Delegation To Tour Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 12—(INS)—Thirty-five members of Congress have passed through Berlin since beginning of the occupation of that city by U. S. troops early in July.

During the same period, and though London is only a few hours flight from the German capital, only two English government officials visited the city and neither of them was a member of Parliament.

Many a G. I. and a great many U. S. officers are wondering today what all these "V. I. P.'s"—or "very important persons"—as they are called—are doing to justify their trips, expenses for which are being taken care of by U. S. taxpayers.

The griping by the officers and men is somewhat understandable if one considers that the men stationed in the Berlin area spend a most unpleasant time in the devastated capital. They hear about the "visiting firemen" spending a few days on a typical Cook's Tour.

Still, the trouble of being well treated is not the visitors' fault. It is not of their doing or planning that many are getting food for which every man in town would pay his last nickel, that they are staying in requisitioned villas far more comfortable than any of the officers' billets, and that they are having luxurious cars at their disposal.

The fact is that every U. S. civilian visiting Germany is going to a country which is under martial law. Therefore, before leaving the United States every one of them is given an assimilated military rank by the war Department, according to his political or other importance.

The Pentagon building at Washington classifies members of Congress as assimilated colonels or, sometimes, even brigadier generals or higher.

It is no secret that the generals and colonels—from whom 63 villas have been requisitioned in the area—are living as their rank seems to require. Consequently, the specially created visitors bureau in Berlin can do nothing but give the visiting V. I. P.'s the same treatment as is given officers permanently living there.

The question is, therefore, whether all these members of Congress are really needed in Berlin. Another question is whether the Army in some instances is not overdoing the job.

SWIFT RECOVERY

CHUNGKING, Sept. 12—(INS)—Fochow, the first of the big cities on the China Coast to be liberated by Chinese forces, has nearly regained its pre-war prosperity within the short period of two months. The highways destroyed during the fighting have been either rebuilt or repaired. Traffic on the Nim River, an important communication line connecting Fochow with other cities in Fukien, has resumed.

Putting up bird houses is not a modern idea—the Indians hung up gourds for nesting martins.

Ex-Soldier Enters School At 44

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 12—Life may begin at 40, says James E. "Pat" Todd, World War II veteran, but at 44 he thinks he's the oldest ex-GI yet to enter college.

It's a long time since Todd was graduated from the Bowersock school, near Punxsutawney, but he's confident the two-year agricultural course at the Pennsylvania State college will present no insurmountable obstacles.

Todd, who served with an anti-aircraft unit in New Guinea, is the oldest of approximately 200 veterans enrolled at Penn State under the educational provisions of the GI bill.

His legs still bear dark, ugly scars as the aftermath of "jungle rot", but he believes they are strong enough to carry him through two years of intensive agricultural training, after which he plans to return to the family farm in Perry township, Jefferson county.

In addition to his classroom work, Todd has a part-time job caring for the pigeons which are being used at Penn State in an army signal corps research project.

Experiment Uses DDT To Learn If Flies Carry Polio

Parts Of Four Cities Are Sprayed In 'Purely Experimental' Project

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—American families in polio epidemic areas were warned that the use of DDT in fighting infantile paralysis is still in the experimental stage and that its value, if any, will most likely not be known for several months.

In a statement to the press, Dr. Don W. Gudakunst, medical director, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that "the tremendous amount of newspaper and radio publicity given to DDT makes it important that everyone understand the role of this powerful insecticide in the fight against infantile paralysis."

Under the supervision of the Army Neurotropic Virus Disease commission, of which Dr. John R. Paul of Yale University is chairman, DDT solutions have recently been sprayed over limited portions of four cities—Rockford, Ill., Savannah, Ga., Paterson, N. J., and New Haven, Conn.

Purpose Of Spraying
Purpose of the spraying, financed out of a $25,000 grant by the National Foundation, is to kill all flies in a particular area, study the results with respect to infantile paralysis, and compare with unsprayed areas.

The National Foundation, Dr. Gudakunst said, "is participating in these projects in the hope that we may learn whether flies actually do play any part in the spread of infantile paralysis among human beings." He added:

"These experiments are being carried out because (1) flies in an epidemic area have occasionally been shown to be carriers of poliovirus, (2) typical poliovirus has been produced in experimental animals artificially infected from these flies, and (3) food contaminated by flies in an epidemic area likewise produced poliovirus in the experimental animals."

"We do not know, in spite of these findings, whether flies play any part in the spread of infantile paralysis among humans. Our studies may give us information on this point, but it will most likely be months before concrete results have been determined."

Small Tug Is First U. S. Ship To Enter Odessa In 30 Years

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12—(INS)—The Philadelphia-built fleet tug U. S. S. Moreno holds the distinction of being the first American naval vessel to visit the Russian port of Odessa in thirty years.

Acting as escort for the U. S. S. Tackle, carrying supplies and medicine for American prisoners released by the Russian advance, the Moreno towed the Tackle the entire trip of 1500 miles to increase its speed.

The only United States naval vessels to precede the Moreno through the Dardanelles and the Black sea in 21 years were the president's convoy en route to Yalta.

Despite participation in the landings at Sicily, Salerno and southern France and subjugation to more than a hundred air raids, the Moreno sustained only one near miss.

POW Guards Cannot Show Signs Of Any Type Of Neurosis

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12—(INS)—Third Service Command is now screening carefully all soldiers selected for duty as guards for prisoners of war, according to Brig. Gen. T. B. Catron, acting commander.

No men will be assigned to such duty if their medical histories indicate any type of psychoneurosis or psychosis.

Personnel officers are studying the matter intently, he asserted, and every military manpower source in this area is being drained for suitable prisoner of war guards.

REPORT 176,159 DISCHARGED
HARRISBURG, Sept. 12—(INS)—State selective service headquarters announced today that from the beginning of the draft in 1940 to September 7 a total of 176,159 Pennsylvanians had been discharged from the armed forces.

A headquarters spokesman said 19,203 men were released from service in August while during the first week of this month 4596 servicemen were discharged.

Senate Committee Considers Plan For Compensation

Some Tentative Changes Made In Unemployment Compensation Measure Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The Senate Finance committee's tentative decision to trim the $25-a-week unemployment compensation bill paved the way today for sharp conflicts on the floor.

While a reversal of the decision is possible when the bill is canvassed again tomorrow, Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman, expressed belief that the committee's policy has been firmly settled.

Major Features

The committee agreed upon these major features of an unemployment compensation bill for the reconversion period:

1. Leave undisturbed state unemployment benefits, which cover wide range but which reach $20 a week a week maximum or more in larger industrial states.

2. Provide Federal payment of the state unemployment compensation from the time the state period ends up to 26 weeks.

3. Include all Federal employees for unemployment compensation under state system rates. Where there is question as to doubt of residence payment would be at District of Columbia rates.

4. Include maritime workers under unemployment compensation, with most to be paid under District of Columbia rates.

5. Authorize director of reconversion to pay travel costs of displaced war worker and his family to his home or another job, with maximum $200 allowance.

The committee proposal was a compromise for the bill of Sen. Kilgore (D) W. Va., which provided supplemental Federal payments to make unemployment compensation generally at a maximum $25 a week for 26 weeks.

Members of the finance committee declined to interfere with rates fixed by states. They agreed that the Federal government would pay benefits after the state payments stop up to 26 weeks. The government would give varying amounts in different states. The state of Washington would gain nothing, since its state law provides unemployment compensation up to 26 weeks.

St. John's Sodality Has Special Program

Sodalists And Service Men Participate In Program Of Blessed Virgin Mary

Sodality of Our Lady of Victory of St. John's parish held their meeting recently in the church hall, Howard Way, with perfect, Elizabeth Beshero in charge. Mrs. Joseph Beshero gave opening prayer, president of Ladies Rosary Society. Names for candidates were announced to be received on December 8, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. At this meeting all mothers of Sodality were present to attend the program held in honor of the virtues of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Sodalists who spoke on principal feasts were: Sophie Moses on the Immaculate Conception, December 8; and Assumption on August 15; Virginia Gabriel on the Visitation, July 2; and Birthday of Virgin Mary on September 8; Nancy Beshero, Holy Name of Mary, September 12; and the Seven Dolors of Mary, September 15; Elizabeth Beshero spoke on the Feast of the Rosary, October 7.

Pfc. George Joseph showed moving pictures of the Sodality May crowning held since 1942. Anna Gabriel, vice prefect also spoke reading a letter from her brother, Cpl. Joe Gabriel on Okinawa.

Tasty refreshments were served by the Social committee, under the supervision of Cecilia Joseph. Another guest speaker was Sister Mary Agatha of the New Castle Hospital; and Pfc. Joseph M. Sand, an M. P. stationed at Ft. Devens, Mass., who prior to entering the army, was Sodality treasurer.

Boy Confesses That He Killed His Step-Mother

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 12.—(INS)—A 15-year-old Stanton boy, confessed today, according to state police, to slaying his step-mother with a rifle because of her "constant nagging."

Delaware state police who had been questioning the boy, Everett Ovenden, since last night said he finally signed a confession.

Police said the boy told them his foster-mother, Mrs. Sarah M. Ovenden, 36, was constantly nagging him and he couldn't take it any longer. She began scolding him when he returned from school yesterday; he told police, and continued until his nerves got the better of him.

The statement added that he went to the porch and loaded his .22 calibre rifle, then entered the kitchen and shot her in the back of the head as she was bending over the sink.

When his father returned from work, the youth told him the mother had collapsed from high blood pressure. A physician was called and the woman was removed to the morgue where an autopsy revealed a bullet in the woman's brain.

Sister Mary Edna, moderator of sodality, spoke of the new feast of Our Lady, the Immaculate Heart of Mary. Other speakers were discharged veterans: Peter and Sam Beshero, who spoke about religion overseas; Pfc. George Joseph spoke on the Miraculous Medal; Pfc. Mike Gabriel.

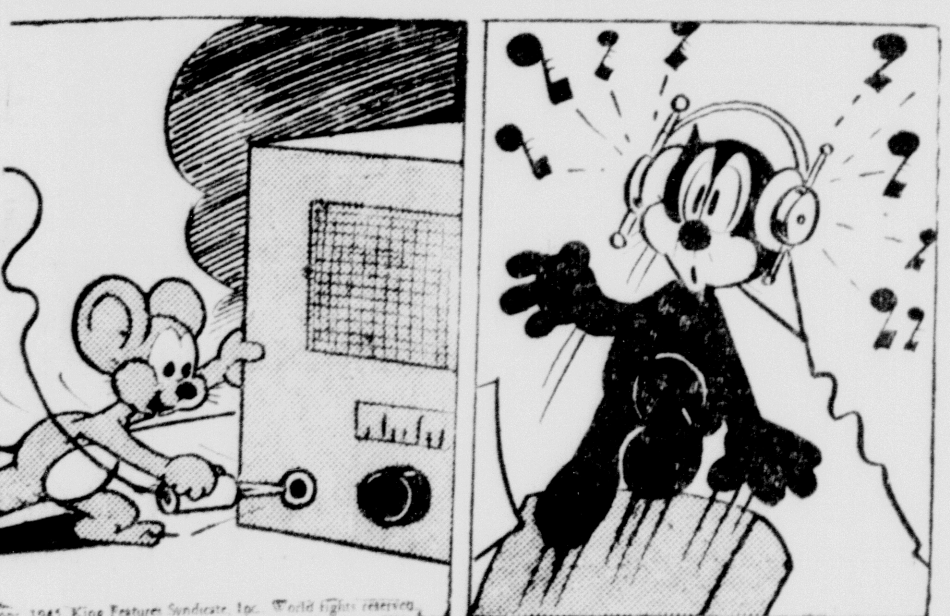

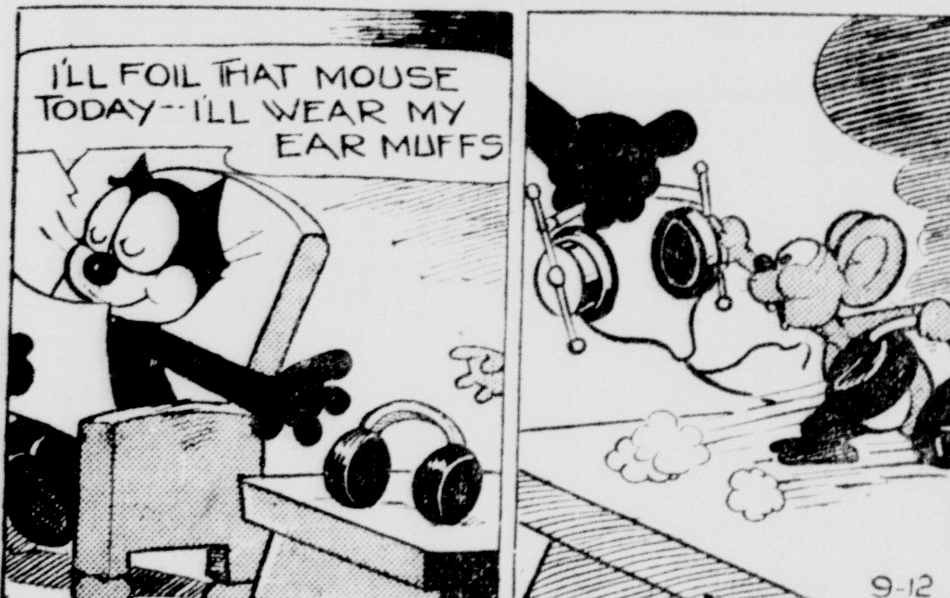

Pfc. George Joseph showed moving pictures of the Sodality May crowning held since 1942. Anna Gabriel, vice prefect also spoke reading a letter from her brother, Cpl. Joe Gabriel on Okinawa.

GRAND JURY REPORTS

Recommending that the Early property, back of Court street, be retained by the county and that a new juvenile detention home be built upon the property, the grand jury made its recommendations and returned its findings in the bills of indictments presented. The grand jury also recommended that a stairway be built from the county treasurer's office to the court house basement.

One bill of indictment was thrown out when not a true bill was returned. This was the case against Helen and Shirley Siddall charging the unlawful breaking and throwing down of a fence.

True bills were returned in the following cases: Joe Bogac, charged with assault and battery; James McCune, charged with assault and battery; John Angeles, charged with indecent exposure; James Ransau, alias Payneville Slim, charged with robbery; James E. Johnson, charged with larceny and Oliver Pellini, charged with receiving stolen goods. Criminal court opens Monday morning, Sept. 17.

MRS. CONTI BACK

Mrs. Mary Conti, court interpreter, oldest court house attaché in point of years of service, is back on the job after being away for two months. Mrs. Conti had an eye operation, which appears to have been successful, to the delight of her friends.

Mrs. Conti started working as a court interpreter as a young woman in 1900. She has worked for nine Lawrence county judges and many visiting judges.

REGISTRATIONS LIGHT
Despite the fact that September 17 is the last day to register for the November election, and the fact there have been several special days set aside for registration, the figures are light. Since September 1 there have been only 78 registered, of which 22 are Republicans and 56 are Democrats, with one No Party. In the special registration day at Ellport, 23 Democrats and six Republicans registered; in Enon Valley, 10 Republicans and three Democrats; in Besemer, 28 Democrats and two Republicans, with one No Party. The present total registration is 39,947.

The Cid, famous Spanish warrior, led his soldiers to battle after his death. Souther tells in the 11th book of the "Chronicle of the Cid" that the embalmed body of the warrior was placed in the saddle, according to his wish, and at the head of his army advanced to battle against King Eucar and his countless hosts of Moors, winning a great victory.

Marie Grosheitz, a young Swiss head, were brought in from the sculptress, during the French revolution. King Louis, Marie Antoinette, had the job of casting death (mette) Robespierre, and many masks of famous persons as their others were among her "models."

Former Judge Faces Charges

Indictments Returned At Scranton Accuse Former Federal Judge And Nine Others

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 12.—(INS)—The Middle Pennsylvania Court district was shaken today by a federal grand jury's charge that former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg has three sons and six other men had conspired to obstruct justice and defraud the government.

The special panel ended 17 months of deliberations yesterday by handing up a 29-page indictment of the 10 men listing 45 overt acts between February 1, 1934, and December 31, 1944.

Federal Judge William F. Smith Jr. of Newark, N. J., specially presiding over the inquiry, directed the accused to appear in Federal court at Scranton October 16 for arraignment. He did not issue bench warrants.

Retired In July
Johnson retired from the bench July 3 at the age of 72 during an investigation of his official conduct. He surrendered all claims to a pension although he had rounded out 20 years on the bench.

The retired judge's sons named in the indictment were Snyder County District Attorney Donald M. Johnson of Middleburg; Miller A. Johnson, Lewisburg attorney, and Albert W. Johnson Jr., former Luzerne county assistant district attorney and now a captain in the Army.

Others were Hoyt A. Moore, prominent New York attorney of the law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore; Jacob Greenes, Scranton beer salesman and self-described "big man" for the former jurist's son; John Memolo, Scranton attorney convicted of income tax evasion; Charles Korman, alias Coleman, reputed alcohol racketeer several years ago; David Schwartz, Scranton lawyer who was convicted in a war fraud case; and Joseph P. Jennings of Moosic, a trustee during the reorganization of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern Railroad.

Schwartz was not notified of the jury's action because he has been under a physician's care following a heart attack.

Four Dead Men Accused
on a similar charge of the special panel. They were Patrick E. Kilcullen, a bankruptcy referee; J. Donald Reitsnyder, a lawyer who committed suicide during the investigation a year ago while a commissioned officer in the Navy; John W. Croly, attorney and Martin Alameda, brother of John Memolo. All were residents of Scranton.

The indictment charged the indicted judge with having down opinions in many cases favoring litigants who had paid sums of money to one or more of the other defendants. The ex-judge, the jury stated, received some of the money.

The defendants, the indictment alleged, conspired with other unknown persons "to commit offenses against the United States by corruptly impeding, obstructing and influencing the due administration of justice in the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Pennsylvania."

High Requiem Mass For Pvt. H. A. Sinkule

Memorial Service Saturday At St. Margaret's Church For Departed Ward Soldier

On Saturday morning, September 15, at 9 o'clock high requiem mass will be said at St. Margaret's church, West Clayton street, in memory of the late Pvt. Howard A. Sinkule, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sinkule of 110 1/2 North Liberty street.

According to word received by his parents two weeks ago from the war department, Pvt. Sinkule died in a prison camp of malaria July 26, 1942.

Pvt. Sinkule enlisted in the armed forces February 9, 1940, and was attached to the army air corps. He spent four months at Fort Slocum, N. Y., left the U. S. in June, arriving in the Philippines July 25, 1940. The last word from him was February 7, 1942, when he was O. K. on the front line at Bataan. In May 1943 he was reported missing.

Howard was born February 22, 1921, at Freedom, Pa., moving here with his parents in 1935. He graduated from New Castle high school, class of June 1939, and was a faithful member of St. Margaret's church and member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 315.

He is survived by his parents, one sister, Anna Catherine, at home; two brothers, Don Sinkule, R. M. 2-c, somewhere in the Pacific, and Pvt. Carl J. Sinkule, just arrived in the U. S. from European theater of war.

Vagrancy Charge Cures Amnesia Case

PITTSBURGH Sept. 12.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Detective John Haseman today believes he has discovered a cure for amnesia, or at least, a temporary cure.

A man, later identified as Earl Stoneburner, 27, of Youngstown, O., couldn't remember anything about himself or how he came to Pittsburgh, until Haseman suggested he be charged with vagrancy and serve a 30-day sentence in the workhouse.

The "victim" recovered sufficiently to state he was a driver for a Youngstown, O., trucking firm and had left a Youngstown hospital, where he was a patient several days ago.

Crowd Is Indicated For Fisher Concert

Reception On Stage Will Follow Local Girl's Concert In Cathedral Thursday

Advance ticket sales point to a large crowd at the concert Thursday night at the Cathedral when Adrian Fisher, prominent local pianist makes his first New Castle appearance since his successful New York debut last spring.

The concert is being sponsored by the New Castle Lions Club for the benefit of the Building Fund of the Y. M. C. A. Cathedral Center, and it is expected that the proceeds of the concert will represent a substantial contribution to the fund. Miss Fisher's program offers wide appeal to the music lovers of the community. While the selections will furnish ample opportunity to demonstrate her brilliant technique, the program avoids an over display of musical scholarship which might be difficult of appreciation to the average music lover. Of particular interest in her program is the Chopin group containing the well-known Polonaise in A Flat Major, and other pieces in the hit show, "A Song to Remember," based on the life of Chopin.

After the concert a brief reception will be held on the stage for Miss Fisher. She has a host of local friends and this will afford them an opportunity to talk with her before her return to New York for her teaching and concert work.

Billy Conn Is Home, Anxious To Meet Louis

Lithe Pittsburgher Arrives Aboard Plane From Europe, Has Two Combat Stars

BOUT WITH LOUIS SEEMS ASSURED

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—(INS)—Corp. Billy Conn, the leading challenger for the heavyweight title, returned to the United States Tuesday with enough points for an automatic discharge and a prediction that he'll "beat Joe Louis this time."

Conn's return heralded that long-awaited bout, a match that may draw as much as $3,000,000—the biggest in history. Promoter Mike Jacobs said he hoped to put on the fight next summer, providing both men have been discharged from the service.

Discharge Shortly

Army officers indicated that Conn's release probably would come about in the near future.

Conn, 27, and sporting two combat stars, was greeted by Jacobs at La Guardia field where he landed from an ATC plane after a 24-hour trans-Atlantic hop from Paris. Jacobs gave the smiling Irishman a hug and a kiss, then popped the question—"How many points have you got?"

Conn won his combat stars for appearance in battle areas 60 miles above Florence, Italy.

Almost Beat Louis

Conn, who lives in Pittsburgh, landed at La Guardia field aboard an ATC plane. Like all returning servicemen from the European theatre, he said he was "mighty glad to be home again." His plans for the present, however, "are up to the Army."

The lithe Irishman, who almost topped Sgt. Louis' title before both went into the Army, has been overseas for the past 15 months, during which time he participated in a total of 325 exhibitions for the boys over there.

Conn estimated that he had performed before a "couple of million" servicemen in Europe, and had traveled around 100,000 miles in his exhibition tour. He said he had visited almost every country in Europe, as well as England and Ireland.

Has 91 Points

He has a total of 91 points—more than enough for discharge under the Army's point system.

At the present, the boxer said he weighed around 190 pounds, considerably more than at the time he fought Louis for the title and went 13 rounds before he walked right into one of Louis' left-hand punches. He figured his best fighting weight now would be around 183 pounds.

"I'd just love to fight Louis again," the winning Conn said.

Conn also reported that he got a big kick out of a special two-week tour with Bob Hope, the radio and film comedian.

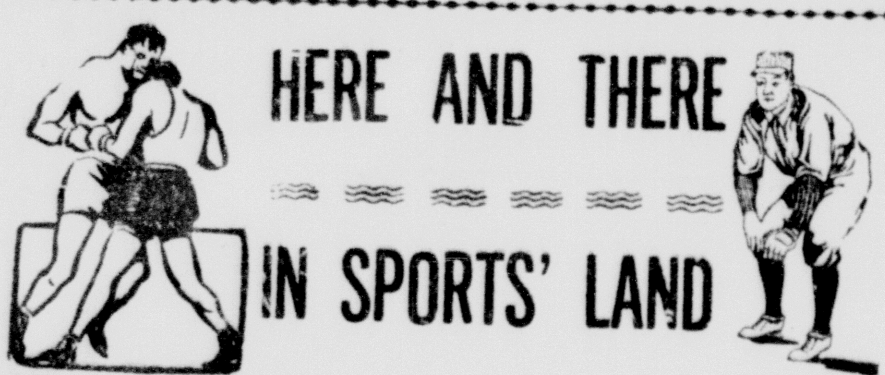

The youthful boxer hopes to get to Pittsburgh soon, to see his wife and family again. He has never seen his youngest Billy, Jr., aged seven months. He has another son, David Philip, now three.

Promoter Mike Jacobs indicated that Conn's desire for an early return session with Louis may come about next summer.

He said he expected to match the heavyweights for the title at that time.

THIRD quarterly meeting of the Northwest Division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs will be held in Erie on September 23, beginning at 2:00 P. M. Delegates from the nine counties in the division will attend and sportsmen from over the entire area are invited. Honorable Robert Lambertson, Franklin, vice president of the game commission, and Honorable Clifford J. Welsh, Erie, Northwest Division fish commissioner are both being invited to speak at the session. Hayes T. Englert, division supervisor of the game commission from the Oil City office has been asked to speak on the outlook for the fall hunting season. All fish wardens and game protectors within the division are expected to be on hand and the main purpose of the meeting will be to promote a renewal of the close harmony which prevailed between the sportsmen and commission officials in previous years. With the war over it is felt by division officials that the sooner they begin their post-war program, the better. Prior to Pearl Harbor several important projects were being planned, but had to be dropped for the duration. At that time the division was recognized as a powerful organization, and it is the intentions of its leaders that once again will the division step into the state-wide program with a voice in the matters pertaining to outdoor life in Northwest Pennsylvania, reports Seth Myers, secretary of the Northwest Pennsylvania Sportsmen in his weekly letter.

Russell Baxter, in service, but who defeated Tommy Bell and Rocky Graziano prior to going to the E. T. Mike Diffey Johnson Bronze catching for the Youngstown Lustigs against Springfield in the thirty-second NBF country at Youngstown, Sunday afternoon, delivered a single in the fourth that put the Lustigs ahead 4-2, and in the eighth poked a grounder that tallied another runner. He had two hits, four putouts and two assists during the game. In the evening game which the Lustigs lost to Pittsburgh, 5-0, Mike had five putouts and one assist.

Fair Or Foul

ROME, Sept. 12—Primo Carnera, the Italian strong man who enjoyed a unique boxing career in America during the '30s, is coming back for more.

The former heavyweight champion plans to return to the states next month or in November to work his way into some Madison Square Garden belting bees. He has advised friends in Rome. Word of the big gates at the Garden has drifted to Signals, his native town up north of Rome, and he has started packing his bags.

Friends say he would leave sooner, but he has some personal affairs to straighten out, and he is going about this preliminary with constant hopes that nothing stops him from an American encore.

Could Use Cash

Negotiations have been virtually completed in America, according to friends, who were hazy on the details but certain that old Satchel's return is determined to regain some of his lost prestige—and recapture some of that Uncle Samuel spinach that he learned to love so dearly even if he didn't hold on to much of it.

His failure to return home with a trunkload of cash was not so much his fault. He wasn't exactly a free-wheeling spender in the department. His managerial setup was expensive and when the swag was cut up there simply wasn't enough to go around in vast quantities.

Completely Recovered

So he took what he could get while the pickings were good and soon after he wound up partly paralyzed, he packed up and came home, a living and the biggest headlines and he was still better off than he would have been had he remained a circus strong man in Europe.

Carnera has completely recovered from the paralysis that affected one side of his gigantic body. Friends report and he is in good health. He is a little soft after his years away from the ring, but he is convinced he can get in condition.

While he is a little elderly as fighters go he still should be able to throw enough fast balls and curves to take care of the leading lights of the moment.

No Part of Louis. Joe Louis would funk him out of the park again as he did once before, but no one is suggesting a Louis match. All that old Satchel wants is a whack at the guys pulling those $75,000 gates in the Garden now.

Carnera managed to stay clear of the political nonsense that goes on in Italy and so far as anybody knows would be able to get clearance without difficulty for another visit to America. Barring complications, he will be ready for the big indoor season in the east and no telling how much he will be able to make if he still can fight even a little bit.

Air Corps Team Elks Champions

Defeat Marines 5 To 3 At Sylvan Heights Tuesday Evening To Win Championship

The Air Corps team won the 1945 Elks Golf League championship last night at the Sylvan Heights course, defeating the Marines 5 to 3. The medalist honors last night were divided between Andy Paytas and Boyd with 43 cards.

The Marines defeated the Seabees to enter the finals and the Air Corps defeated the Paratroopers to enter the finals and finally emerge as champions. Captain of the winning team is George Peterson. The Marines, captained by Harry Hayes, were in first place when the season ended, but were no match for the Air Corps slickers last night.

The results of the match:

Air Corps	Marines
Boyd	Paytas
Peterson	McCann
J. Hite	H. Harris
Lekis	J. Davis
J. Dagnon	Clauson
Keels	0 Thornton
Cotton	1 Black
Porter	0 V. Bolt

Chairman of the Elks golf league, Eddie Long, today said that he was very grateful to the members for their fine cooperation this past season. The Elks golfers are now looking forward to their annual banquet Tuesday, September 18, 7 o'clock at the Elks club, when they will do honor to the championship Air Corps team.

Church Golfers Banquet Thursday

Annual Church Golf Dinner At First Presbyterian Church At 6:30 O'Clock

New Castle church golfers will have their annual banquet at the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, September 13, it was announced today despite the fact that the league championship has not as yet been decided.

Morgan Jones Sr., president, said "We will have the banquet as planned, because the Second U. P. and Epworth championship match may take all winter to decide from the looks of things." The two teams have played off two matches and ended in a 3-3 deadlock each time.

It is expected that about 65 to 70 men will sit down to the chicken dinner that is to be prepared tomorrow night. Pong singing will be led by Cliff Young with Ernie Brant stetter at the piano. Rev. Dr. J. McVaine will say the blessing.

Election of new officers for 1946 and finishing up the 1945 league business will occupy the time following the dinner. A handsome trophy cup donated by Jack Gerson, local jeweler has been designated to go to the winning team of every. Each member of the championship team will also get new golf balls as presents from the league.

Hunters 'Rap' Game Officials

Failure To Properly Stock Lawrence County Draws Severe Criticism At Meeting Here

State Game Commission was severely criticized when the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association held its first meeting of the fall season in Neshannock hall, V. P. W. 315, last night.

It was reported only 10 cock birds were stocked here by the state and it was necessary to have several hundred birds hatched at the Thompson hatchery in order to provide rinks for the season.

The sportsmen asserted there are 7,000 licensed hunters here yet the county has failed to stock the state's failure to stock the county with birds and rabbits.

Will File Complaint

It was decided to lodge a complaint to the commission with a special committee which is supposed investigating the operation of that body. One of the complaints will report the failure of the commission to name a county game protector.

It was indicated small game hunting does not appear very bright for fall although 300 of the birds hatched at the Thompson hatchery were stocked in various parts of the county.

Reports of progress at the association's farm, Harbor bridge, were made and it was decided, according to President Bob Lamore, to take a vote at a future meeting as to whether or not to raise association dues. He pointed out the association when dues were 50 cents annually, always was in the red, but since dues were raised to $1 the association went out of the red.

May Increase Dues

He and others believed, they reported, that if higher dues were paid, a worthwhile club-house could be built at the farm. A committee was named by the president to arrange plans for such a structure.

Fish Warden C. B. White said bass would be stocked here soon and in commenting upon the game situation said he does not anticipate it will be as useful as some anticipated.

Mr. White reported that Mrs. Moreland Thompson in a spirit of friendly cooperation had taken charge of the hatching of rinks here and the association voted thanks and will forward her a token of their esteem.

Captain William E. Ferver reported on the recent sportsmen's outing but declared that indications were shells would continue to be "right" until next year.

Second-Epworth Still Tied Up

Church Championship Undecided After Two Matches, Ellsworth Palmer Has 39

They're still at it. Second U. P. and Epworth Methodists golf teams have completed their second play-off in the church golf championship and the result is still tied at 3-3 in matches won. The third play-off has been scheduled for next Monday night at 5:30 o'clock at Castle Hills course.

The cut and dog fight continued last night. Ellsworth Palmer defeated Paul Hunt 3 and 1 on the tough back nine layout shooting a brilliant 39 card, two over par 37 figures, having a bogey six on No. 10, one over on No. 11, a birdie 3 on 12, and the rest of the holes in even par figures. In the other match, Newell Kelly of Epworth defeated Henry M. Dell of Second U. P. 4 and 3. Quite a large gallery followed the match, last night, and a bigger gallery will be on hand Monday to watch the men battle it out.

Cards-SS Legion To Battle Sunday

The North Hill Cardinals and the South Side Legion teams will battle it out Sunday at Marshall field (weather permitting) at 1:30 o'clock in a double-header to try and determine the championship of the American Legion Junior baseball league. This is to be a three game series, the third game if necessary will be played Tuesday at Marshall field.

The Cardinals were declared the first-half champions in place of the Polaris. The Cardinals defeated the first-half champions in the ninth, 6 to 5, by hitting Ace Adams for a single with the bases full and two out.

It is a regrettable incident but one that could not be settled in any other manner. The Cardinals defeated the Cardinals in the first-half play-off several days ago.

Swope Resigns As Turf Head

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—(INS)—Homer Bayard Swope resigned in protest Tuesday as chairman of the turf committee of America.

In a note addressed to the executive committee of the turf group, Swope said his action was based on the announcement that "the committee's victory meeting had been taken over by the five tracks."

This was done with no previous word to the committee," Swope said, "certainly none to the chairman. That indicates an indifference to the committee and a lack of appreciation of the body's usefulness in my mind."

Tigers Increase Lead As Sox Top Fading Senators

Cardinals And Cubs Both In National League Race, Pirates Grab Two

EXCITING PENNANT RACES AT MOMENT

BY LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—Detroit had a breathing spell in the red-hot American league race today thanks to the almost superhuman efforts of Paul "Dizzy" Trout, the workhorse of the Tigers' pitching staff.

Before his team's current eastern trip started, Trout mapped out a difficult schedule for himself. It called for what looked like a rather large number of victories. But by winning his fourth game yesterday in eight days, the Terre Haute terror has more than kept up with his schedule.

Tigers Win Again. Dizzy blanked the Red Sox yesterday 5 to 0 and enabled the league leaders to draw away from the persistent Washington Senators, who lost to the White Sox 2 to 1.

Other American league clubs were idle.

In the National league, the St. Louis Cardinals again displayed that never-say-die spirit which many observers believe will carry them to another pennant. Then the champions went to work. Kuroski won the game in the ninth, 6 to 5, by hitting Ace Adams for a single with the bases full and two out.

The Cubs were lucky to beat Boston 5 to 4. Hank Borowy, former Yankee racker up his eighth victory in ten starts.

Pirates Win Two. Pittsburgh downed the Phillies twice, 5 to 4 and 3 to 1, and strengthened its hold on fourth place. Bob Elliott, who knocked in the winning run in the tenth inning of the opener, now has driven in more than 100 runs per season for three successive years.

After being nosed out by Cincinnati in the tenth, 5 to 4, the Brooklyn Dodgers unleashed a 15-hit attack and smothered the Reds in the nightcap, 11 to 6.

LIMITED FIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—(INS)—Postwar jobs for pilots and other skilled aviation personnel, although numerous, will be far too few to employ the tremendous numbers of veterans and others likely to seek work in aviation fields. This is the conclusion reached in a study by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, according to Charles C. Center, New York Regional Director of the Bureau.

Phil Cavaretta Is Real Sport

Gives Holmes Credit With Hit Sunday In Throw Over First Base

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—(INS)—Boston's Tommy Holmes had credit Tuesday for a hit on a play that originally was charged an error Sunday. The change was made principally because of a sporting gesture by the Chicago Cubs first baseman, Phil Cavaretta.

Holmes batted along grounders to shortstop Les Merullo in the fourth inning of Sunday's second game between the Cubs and Braves. Merullo threw to first as low and bounded into the stands. The official score charged Merullo with an error.

Later, Cavaretta informed the scorer that Holmes, his chief rival for National League batting honors, had the play beaten anyway. So Holmes got his hit. But Merullo still was charged with an error for giving Holmes credit on down to second on the misplay.

Phil now tops the league in batting with 337. Holmes is three points behind with 334.

Four Games In NBF Tournament

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 12—Four games were scheduled for today and tonight in the 32nd annual National Baseball Federation tournament in Youngstown.

The Cleveland Battlers, who edged out Birmingham, 3 to 2, in the 11th inning yesterday, were to meet New York, who took a 6 to 4 defeat from Dayton in the night game.

The loss was Birmingham's first and a tough one for Pitcher Jack Schuessler, who allowed only four hits and struck out 10 Clevelanders. Walter Kloos, the winning hurler, saved up nine hits.

Other games set were Birmingham vs New York, Detroit vs Pontiac, Mich., and at night, Youngstown vs Dayton.

Coach John Lawther of Penn State has already started daily basketball drills. He contemplates the return of two or three pre-war players before the new season gets underway in December.

The 1945 season will mark the 50th consecutive year of football at Penn State.

High Gridders Working Hard To Defeat Butler

New Castle Hopes To Get Started In Class AA With Victory Friday Night

TACKLE POSTS STILL UNCERTAIN

New Castle High School football team with the opening game out of the way, are working hard at the stadium this week to perfect play for upsetting Butler High in the first Class AA test Friday night at the stadium under the lights.

Head Coach Phil Brudenbaugh is still worried about his two tackle spots, the only weak links in an otherwise fine looking machine last Friday. Last night Pearson Furst and Al Tate were running as the tackles on the first team, with Bettis and DeCola filling in at times. Tate, who will set the starting nod on Friday against Butler is not known at the moment.

Butler Will Be Tough

New Castle came out of the Grove City last fall in good physical shape, but injuries cropping out, Butler in the opening at New Brighton which they lost 18 to 12 showed signs of developing this week and will be tough for New Castle to beat. Butler has a half of players' best game here as seen by the 9 to 0 count New Castle gained in 1944.

The drill last evening consisted mostly of running signals and blocking.

Redskins Scalp Chicago Bears

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—(INS)—The Chicago Bears, usually a station team in the National Football league, returned for obviously needed further practice to their training camp in Collegeville, Ind., today after absorbing a 14-0 licking from the Washington Redskins. A crowd of 25,000 at Soldier Field last night watched the Redskins take a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and then the Redskins punched over the winning touchdown in the final period with three minutes left to go.

The 1945 season will mark the 50th consecutive year of football at Penn State.

Believe Youth Has Not Told All In Girl Slaying

District Attorney At Uniontown Says Some Of Facts In Attack Are Withheld

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 12.—(INS)—District Attorney H. Vance Cotton believes Fred E. Hauser, 19, confessed killer of pretty Anna Elizabeth Dreyer, 17, Fayette city's "Sunshine Girl" on September 1, is not telling all he knows.

Cotton believes detail in the story of the original attack on top of a hill between Flatwoods and Star Junction and of the lethal strangulation of the victim are lacking, hidden by the defense of the ex-sailor.

Officials revealed that examination of the red and green sandals worn by the girl when her decomposed body was found about 10 feet from the side of the highway revealed that the victim was not dragged out of the car and into the bushes and weeds as recited by Hauser. Hauser was unable to explain how clothes were tossed near the body.

Hauser was asked whether he desired a hearing or would waive further action for court.

"Which is the quickest?" he asked. Informed that a hearing would require little time, he replied:

"I'll waive."

The end of any further examination by Prosecutor Cotton and other commonwealth representatives appears nearly ended. One last attempt will be made to get Hauser to further explain the disrobing of the girl and the reason for strangling her.

IN THE OPEN

The rain fell steadily as we packed fishing tackle in the car. Despite the downpour and leaden morning skies which gave poor promise for the day we checked off essential items and made sure the lunch basket was not forgotten. Finally all was in readiness and, rain or no rain, we splashed off along the road to a certain stream where the smallmouth bass are usually hungry and always full of fight.

An hour or so later we had our first look at the water. The stream was clear and quite low, almost dry in spots. The rain had dwindled to a misting drizzle which soon stopped completely. We stepped into fishing boots for protection against a chance copperhead, rigged up light flyrod tackle and cleared for action.

Need Plenty of Proper Bait

The first essential to success in small mouth fishing is to have plenty of proper bait. In some locales the softshell crab is the most acceptable live bait. Elsewhere good sport may only be had by minnow fishing. When stream bottom conditions are right the riffles will produce a supply of hellgrammites, ugly creatures to the timorous soul, but cake and ice cream to the smallmouth, who roots them out from under the smaller stones.

We had planned a day of hellgrammite fishing so took along the scoop seine to harvest our bait crop. Under normal stream conditions the trick is to "set" the net at the foot of a short rip, then overturn roughly all the stones in the stream bed for about ten feet upstream. The hellgrammite, displaced from its snug roost beneath its chosen rock, is washed into the net by the current and immediately joins the select fraternity in the bait box.

No Riffles in Stream

The stream was so low that there were no riffles anywhere with enough water to float down a crop of bait. We have to turn over the larger stones individually, watching carefully in the murky water, lest the hellgrammite crawl away elsewhere. This is slow going, but by no means unexciting toil. In one section of the stream there seemed to be a water snake hidden under every rock. We disposed of a total of eight snakes discovered in this unpleasant manner.

I picked up a small snapping turtle while working over the stream bed. He was about the size of a half dollar and his shell was still soft. I would venture that he had made his debut but a few days before. Now he is one of the leading attractions in our home aquarium, where he can anticipate a steady diet of dead flies.

Take Whirl at Bass

After an hour or so of this rock lifting, we had picked up enough bait to take a whirl at the bass. The fishing was confined to scattered pools and we "worked" the stream for a considerable distance before we finally struck the spot where the bass were in proper receptive mood. Here we settled down to some serious angling and before long a nice fish or two had been hooked, played and creeled.

I fished against the far bank, selecting a clear casting position which offered access to some promising pockets. A short time before, at a hole farther up stream, I had snapped a leader midway while retrieving a bad cast from a sycamore tree. Carelessly I tied the two halves together and kept on fishing which is not a very wise thing to do.

The first hellgrammite to come to hand was a big fellow who gave me a nasty pinch as I hooked him through the collar. On the first cast he caught hold of a rock or something before I had gauged the proper depth for retrieve, and I strained the leader severely in working him loose. The next cast hit pay dirt. The line took off down stream in the steady, deliberate manner that spells big bass.

Gave Fish Good Run

I gave the fish a good run, tightened all line and set the hook. The line and half the leader flew out of the water at me and the bass went on his merry way. The leader had parted right at my careless knot, but I felt reasonably certain that a big bass was parading around in that stream with a hook in his jaw, and two feet of six-pound test leader streaming out behind.

I rigged up stronger tackle and resumed casting. Soon a brace of small bass, ten inches, took the bait and went to join their fathers. Then I got a strike from a heavy fish, partially hooked him and lost him when he threw the hook in a magnificent flurry. Taking a position a few yards farther down stream I cast again and felt the smash of a heavy strike. The hook struck home and the bass came out of the water in a splashing leap. Over his back waved my broken leader.

After a gamy fight the fish came to creel. In his jaw were my two hooks. In many years of angling I have seen fish do some unexplainable things. This is the first time that I have known a bass, already stung from a hard strike, and with the hook in his jaw, to try again on the same lure not fifteen minutes later.

Eating Places In Second Class Townships Checked

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—(INS)—The State Health department was sifting "hundreds" of reports today on conditions in eating and drinking establishments in second class townships prior to issuing licenses under a new sanitation law.

Deputy Secretary J. Moore Campbell said no licenses had been granted yet. Regulations drafted by the department must be met by November 23.

Under the rules, restaurants must be inspected quarterly by local health officers and reports submitted to the department. Food must be prepared in sanitary surroundings while disease carriers may not be employed.

Local officials have been charged with the inspection and licensing except in second class townships.

State Urges Youths To Resume Schooling

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—(INS)—Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas said today that all minors who interrupted their school program to accept war jobs "should be urged to continue their education."

In letters to county and district superintendents, Haas predicted that the end of hostilities and contract cutbacks "will likely result in the discharge of minors in the early stages of reconversion."

"Every possible effort should be made to encourage employers to discharge minors as early as possible when they express a desire to return to school," he added.

"In this way it will be less difficult for such persons to make the necessary adjustments and administrative problems within a school system will also be greatly reduced," Haas said.

He explained that in 1943 a total of 109,177 youths left classrooms to accept work while 95,702 others quit school in 1944.

Haas pointed out that the school law requires youths to return to classrooms until their 17th birthday if they quit or lose their jobs.
